THE SEA GULL

THE YEARBOOK OF SWAMPSCOTT HIGH SCHOOL SWAMPSCOTT, MASSACHUSETTS

VOLUME XIV, 1961

FOREWORD

"The opening and closing of doors are among the most significant acts of a man's life."

—Christopher Morley

Within the doors of Swampscott High School, we members of the Class of 1961 have had varied experiences during four years which will soon be memories to all of us. In each of these years, countless doors were opened to us, offering entrance not only into a place but also into knowledge, challenge, recreation, and friendship. Our 1961 Sea Gull records the story of our last year at Swampscott High. The doors into the building itself, and those leading into the classrooms, the library, the gym, the auditorium, the office — all have their own significance for us; and around them we have centered our yearbook. Here at Swampscott High School we have sought truth, the key which unlocks innumerable doors. It will continue to do so for us long after we have passed for the last time as pupils through the memory-filled doors of Swampscott High.

DEDICATION

to Miss Margaret A. O'Riordan

Miss Margaret A. O'Riordan

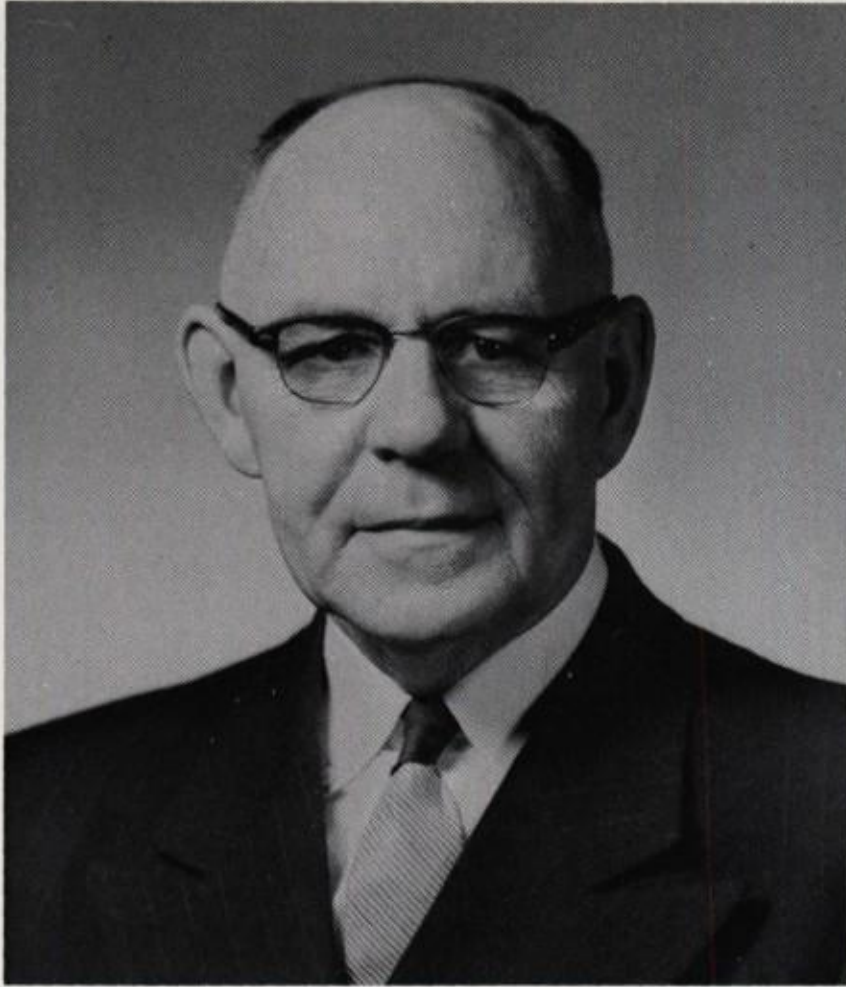

Salem Teachers College, B.S.;
Shorthand; Typewriting; Sales-manship; Senior Class Adviser.

From the time that we were assigned to our "auditorium homerooms" as ninth graders to the final days of our senior year, Miss O'Riordan has been much more to our class than an adviser. She has been a true friend. Miss O'Riordan has always given us the greatest encouragement and assistance in all of our ideas and plans. We have been proud, after each of our successes, to be able to say that she was our inspiration and guide. Thus, we, the Class of 1961, respectfully dedicate our yearbook to Miss Margaret O'Riordan, who, by her sincere interest, able guidance, and warm enthusiasm for all our projects, has given to our grateful class happy memories of four unforgettable years.

Miss O'Riordan dictates to Shorthand II pupils Judy and Irma.

CURRICULUM — S.H.S.

An expression which we have been hearing quite often during this year of political changes is "new frontier." Here at S.H.S. we, too, are aware of the many implications of these words. If we are to meet successfully the standards of the "new frontier" which awaits us beyond our high school doors, we must be thoroughly prepared. Swampscott High School aims for such preparedness through its varied and challenging curriculum. Innovations begun last year as a result of intensive self-evaluation by the faculty and a study made by a visiting committee from the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools have shown their true value this year.

At S.H.S. each student has an opportunity to choose for himself, with the advice of counselors, the course of study best suited to him. Three years of English and one year of American History are compulsory for all. The College Preparatory Course seeks to stimulate a desire for intellectual attainment, and to prepare those taking the course for institutions of higher learning. Students taking the College Course may elect mathematics ranging from general math to calculus. Biology, physics, physical science, and chemistry are offered by the Science Department; while the Language Department offers French, Latin, and Spanish. In the field of social studies, Modern

In Home Economics, Vicki and Jackie start a new project.

SHS chemists discover the truth for themselves during weekly lab periods.

History and Problems of Democracy may be elected. The Business Course provides practical experience for those entering the world of business after graduation. English, language, and history courses are also an integral part of the business curriculum. The Industrial Arts Course develops vocational skills which are of inestimable worth to those enrolled. The Home Economics Course emphasizes instruction which will help girls to achieve more satisfying home living.

The English Department has continued to place strong emphasis on the written composition in all English courses. Senior classes are finding a new text, American Composition and Rhetoric by Donald Davidson, helpful in developing writing skills. A critical review and study of the drama has also been added to the senior course. Added to the facilities of the Language Department have been a new projector, tape recorder, and record player. Aural-oral work in French classes has been increased not only in advanced groups but in French I as well.

The Science Department has continued an advanced physics course begun experimentally last year under the direction of the Physical Science Study Committee. The “chemical bond approach” of the study of chemistry has been added to the present course in order to prepare students for work on a higher plane. Project work in biology has been encouraged to take the place of laboratory periods. Although no new courses in modern mathematics as such have been added to the curriculum this year, as many new topics as possible are introduced into traditional courses. Graduates of Swampscott High have had high praise for the course entitled Introduction to College Mathematics, which has helped them to do very successful work at the college level.

The Social Studies Department has made effective use of a new tape recorder, movie projector, record player, and film strip projector. These aids supplement the traditional methods of study and give students a clearer understanding of past problems and their relation to the present day.

Designed to include all those areas of knowledge that students will need in a business career, the program of the Business Department is extensive. In order to keep students informed as to recent trends in business equipment, local businessmen have been invited to give demonstrations of such machines as the I.B.M. Key punch, the electric typewriter, and the Odhner. Field trips have been helpful in acquainting students with modern business procedures. Civil Service Tests for typists and stenographers were given at the high school in March by Mr. John Mullaine, Civil Service Director of Salem.

Expansion was the key word in the Industrial Arts Department this year. A complete cut-away auto engine has been added as a teaching aid in automotives. Field trips and motion pictures were employed to make the program of study still more stimulating. The Industrial Arts show window served to present an attractive display of the work done in the department and the material included in the program.

Our Home Economics Department is concerned with the whole picture of running a home and raising a family; consequently the curriculum includes a great deal more than just cooking and sewing. Home Economics classes provide a flexible laboratory situation where the girls develop the social responsibility, respect, and understanding for one another that is democracy in action. The course aims to bring out in the girls the social poise and creative skill that will make for a happy home life now and in the future.

"I am the artist" is the central theme under which students in the Art Department have been working. The overall purpose of the course is to encourage individual expression through a variety of materials. The Speech Department seeks to develop poise and forensic forcefulness in its students. Speech I classes, meeting three periods a week, concentrate on the fundamentals of speaking — voice, diction, and poise. Speech II, which meets twice weekly, stresses drama and group discussion. The Music Department provides opportunities for instrumental and vocal training and also sponsors many performances for the student body. Library training is given to all first-year students. They, like the upperclassmen, make use of the library's well-supervised and well-equipped facilities throughout the year. An innovation in the Guidance Department has been the use of tape recordings about various occupations. Again this year, a series of meetings was held for juniors and their parents with reference to college admission.

At Swampscott High School we all agree that scholarship is the key to the "new frontier." Our curriculum is set up to provide each pupil with his own key to success.

Learning to operate the adding machine is only one of the many skills gained in the office machines course.

Whatever one's individual interests may be, S.H.S. has organizations to provide for their pursuit and development in the company of fellow-students and faculty advisers. One efficient service group is the Library Club, sponsored by Miss Trickey. In addition to their daily work in checking books and assisting pupils with research problems, the girls plan special events at weekly meetings at which Lois Dermer and Susan Goldberg preside. Activities held this year include a book fair and auction, donation of books to Morgan Memorial, and a gala club party.

The Amateur Radio Club enjoyed a very active year under the direction of its adviser, Thomas Eickelberger. New classes in code and radio theory, field trips to electronics plants and radio stations, installation of a new antenna on the school roof, improvement of school radio equipment, and the installation of a six-meter transceiver built by club members were all part of the busy schedule. S.H.S. is one of a small number of schools in the state having a government-licensed radio station. Its call numbers, K1BCL, were assigned by the F.C.C. In addition to serving as an aid to pupils interested in the electronics field, the club provides the means for its members to talk with other radio amateurs throughout the world.

Now in its fourth year, the organization known as the Guidance Missiles helps to coordinate activities of the Guidance Department under Mrs. Mary Cooper by serving as a liaison with homerooms. Members also have assisted at several vocational assemblies and have acted as aides to visiting representatives from colleges.

SEA GULL

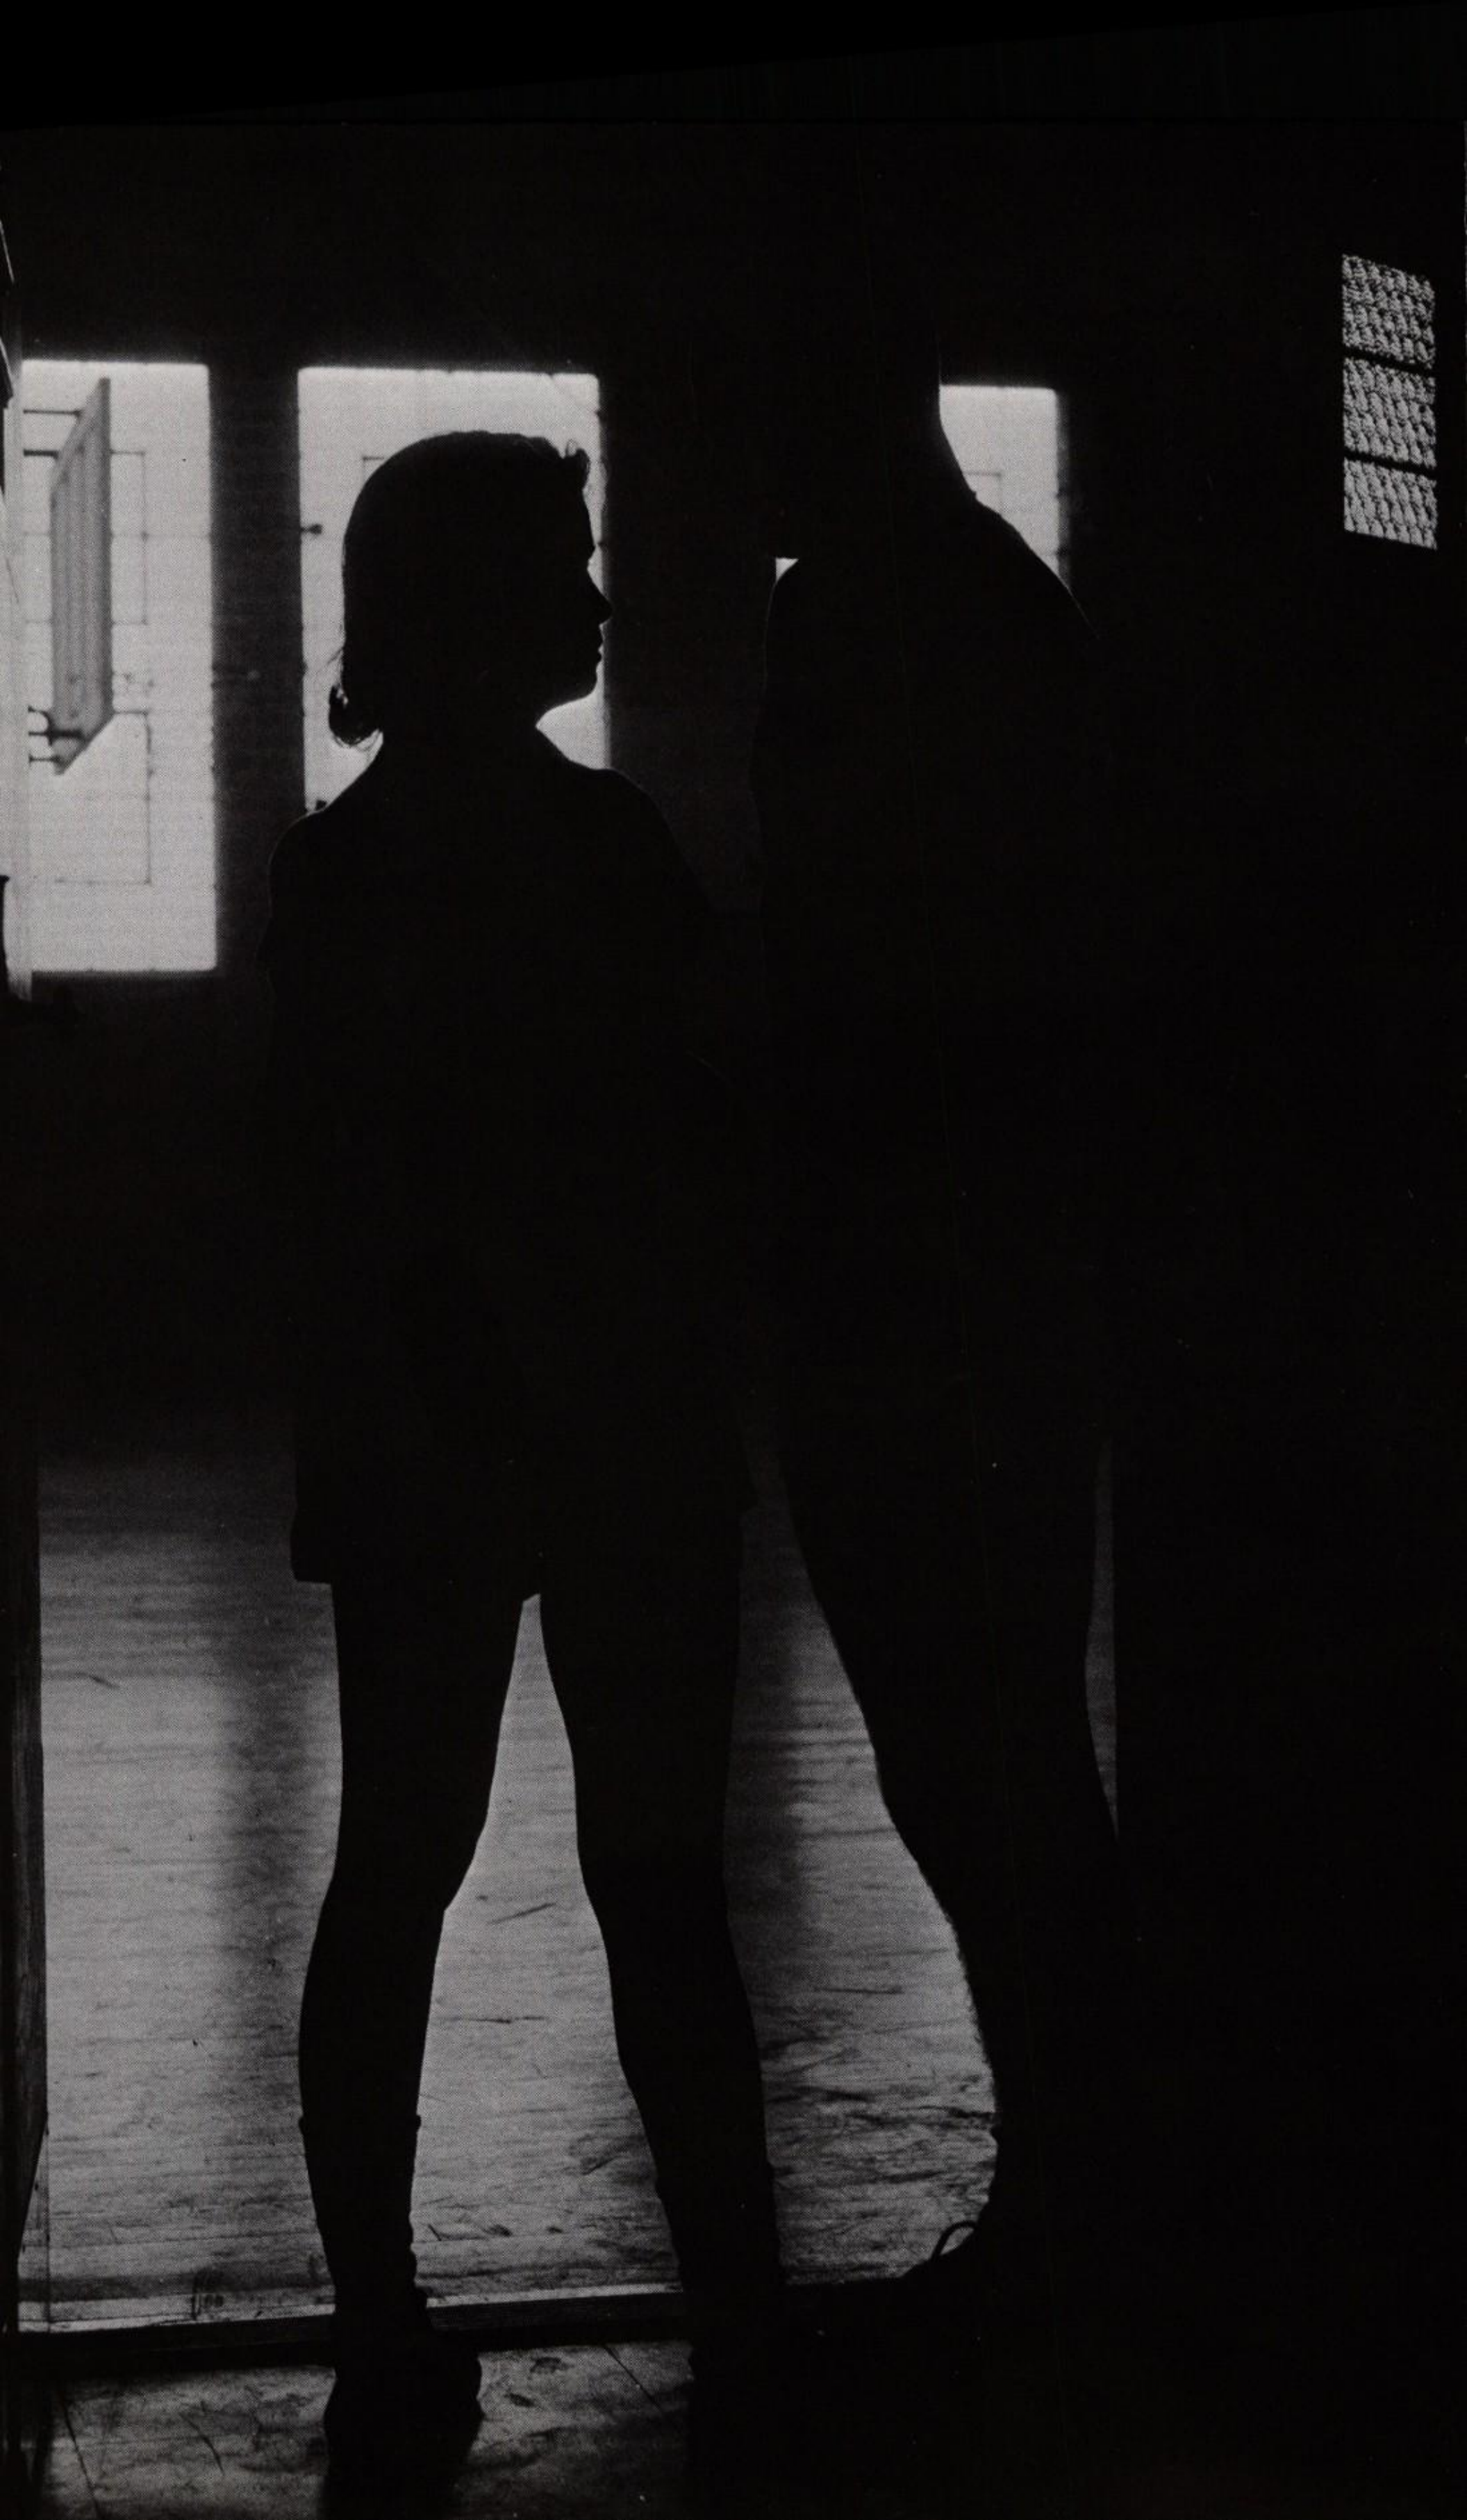

In words and pictures, the S.H.S. yearbook, the Sea Gull, presents a record of each school year. It covers all phases of school life, curricular and extra-curricular, and provides an opportunity for members of all classes to work in its publication and financing. From the beginning of September, Co-editors Barbara Tolpin and Kevin Leonardi, under the guiding hand of Miss Mary E. Shay, worked with a large staff to produce the 1961 Sea Gull. Among their goals was that of emulating the success of their predecessors in 1959 and 1960, whose books were awarded first-place ratings in national competition. Business managers Beverly Siskind, Barbara Fermon, and Tom Santanello, supervised by William A. Sasso, carried out a new promotion plan, the "Take a Time" contest, with marked success. Miss Mary M. Chaisson's instruction and advice were of inestimable help to the busy layout staff. Finally, headed by Lois Cappucio, the typists prepared copy for the printer. Thus another Sea Gull came into being.

Once again the Glee Club under the able direction of Miss Esther Nazarian has added to our pleasure with beautiful choral singing. Starting with the Christmas assembly, at which we heard unusual and melodious carols, the members have proved that, with love of singing and hours of practice, they can convey to the audience their own spirit and enthusiasm. The annual spring concert gives members of the community the opportunity to hear the Glee Club of which S.H.S. is so proud. The special chorus adds much to making the seniors' baccalaureate the memorable event that it is.

Through the operation of a school government, the Student Council seeks to promote school citizenship. Under the supervision of the adviser, Ralph Earle, council representatives from each homeroom meet regularly to discuss matters pertinent to the students' interest. With the fine leadership of its officers — Tom Santanello, president; Mike Janvrin, vice-president; Holly Phillips, corresponding secretary; Sue Farwell, recording secretary; and Ellen Bond, treasurer — the council has several accomplishments to its credit. Heading the social calendar for the year was the Back-to-School hop sponsored by this group. The members also supervised all class elections and elected a Student Government Day official and a Jewish War Veteran representative. A new coat rack and a checking unit in the cafeteria, for use at dances, were designed and installed by a council committee. The Student Council provides a sounding board for discussion of topics pertaining to the good of the student body and gives its members an opportunity to set a high standard of good citizenship.

Anticipation mounts in mid-autumn and late winter as the dates of the Travel Club's annual trips to New York and Washington, D.C., approach. The one-day excursion to New York City is an ideal opportunity to tour the United Nations, as well as to get a bird's eye view of America's largest city. Foremost on the itinerary is the U. N., but students also get a chance to visit Rockefeller Center and Radio City Music Hall. Free time in the evening completes a rather exhausting but thoroughly enjoyable and informative day.

The eight-day trip to Washington is eagerly awaited by all the prospective travelers. Supervising this year's trip, which promises to be memorable as usual, is Mr. Harris Jameson. After stop-overs in New York and Philadelphia, and a journey through the Pennsylvania countryside and Maryland, the members arrive in the nation's capital. They will always remember the Washington, Lincoln, and Jefferson Memorials, the White House, the Capitol Building, the Smithsonian Institute, and all the other world-famous buildings. What better way is there to make history come alive?

With Miss Marjorie White as adviser, the Junior-Senior Math Club aims to promote an interest in areas of mathematics not included in the classroom curriculum. At regularly scheduled meetings led by officers Eddie Bloomberg, president; Sidney Stein, vice-president; Deborah Ross, secretary; and Marshall Sneirson, treasurer, the members discussed such topics as topology, magic squares, finite geometric systems, and number systems. A flourishing Sophomore Math Club, advised by James Murphy, introduces first-year students to some of the more intricate aspects of the subject which they will encounter in the future.

Recognition for academic achievement is given at Swampscott High by the National Honor Society. Membership in this organization is a prize treasured by each member — truly an "honor" to be upheld to the best of one's ability. Few of the members will forget the inspiring initiation ceremony when they symbolically lit their candles from the lamp of knowledge, promised to live up to high standards, and received their pins and certificates from Mr. Dunn and Mr. Blossom, the faculty adviser.

It is not difficult to understand why the International Relations Club has succeeded in attracting so large a membership. Any student who has attended the Annual Conference of the American Field Service, the School of International Relations at M. I. T., or the mock U. N. Day at Harvard University, can vouch for their timeliness and importance. Through informal panel discussions on such topics as national elections, Latin America, and the Algerian situation, lectures and conferences, the members gain knowledge of some of the problems of our fast-paced, modern world.

Math Club President Eddie Bloomberg leads members in a discussion of the integration process of summation — a formidable subject to many of us.

SWAMPSCOTTA

Swampscotta offers the student body, faculty, and alumni the best in S.H.S. literary and artistic endeavors. The publication also affords its staff members valuable experience in editing, writing, and financing. Under the guidance of Mr. Walter R. Henshaw, Editor-in-Chief Deborah Ross, Associate Editors Patricia Davis, Sidney Stein, Virginia Grimes, and Karen Nylander, and Business Managers Marjorie Kunian and Patricia Polisson produced this year's three issues. The assistance of Miss Mary M. Chaisson's art staff and of the squad of typists is a vital element in Swamp-scotta's excellence.

The present editors have worked to maintain the high reputation of the magazine and to prepare for the annual Globe magazine competition. The series of Globe Editors' Conferences has provided them with further practical experience in journalism, as has a weekly high school news column in the Lynn Item, which furnishes local readers information about current activities.

Swampscotta, in existence since 1928, condenses each school year into its editorial, literary, sports, exchange, alumni and humor sections, and gives information and entertainment to its readers.

FOOTBALL FACTS

Great school spirit, excellent teamwork and coaching, and hard work were the ingredients of a successful Big Blue season, as Swampscott won six games and lost three. Having lost several outstanding players by graduation, Coach Stan Bondevitch had to start from scratch as he and the other coaches combined to build a winning team. The Big Blue was able to topple such worthy opponents as Woburn, Andover, Winthrop, Amesbury, Classical, and Newburyport.

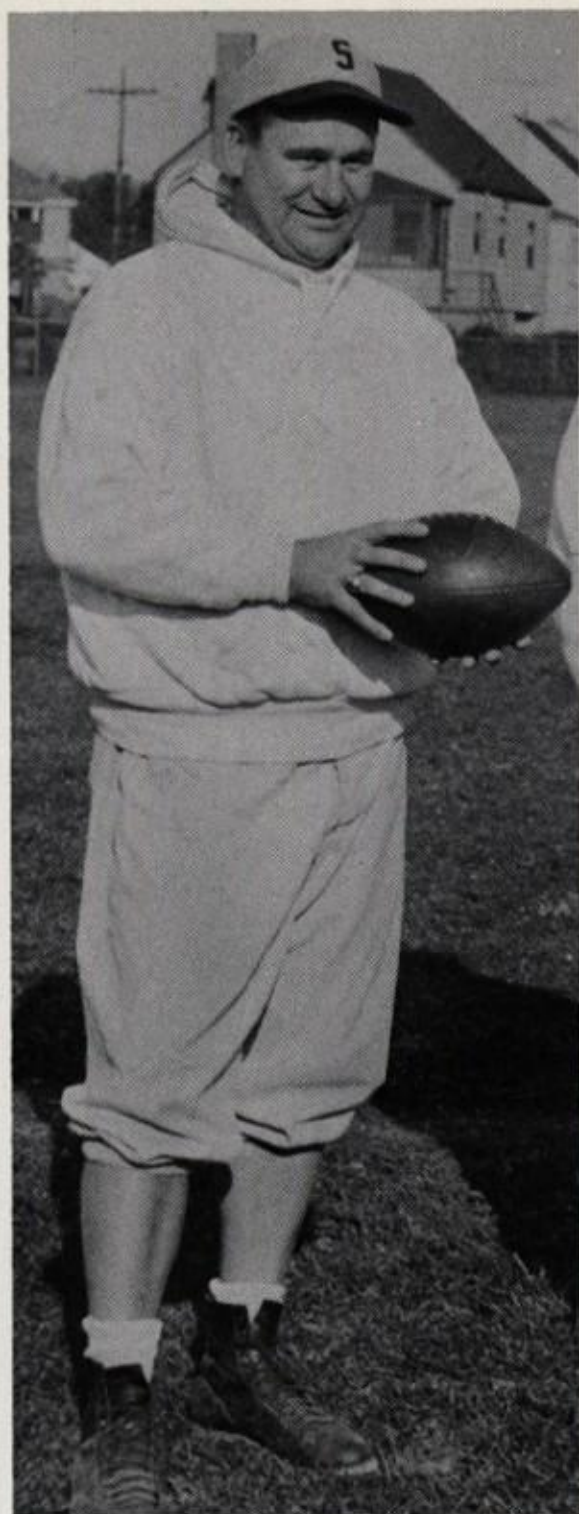

Swampscott opened with a strong showing as the Blue and White crushed Andover, 38-8, chalking up six touchdowns. The line was very impressive this year as the season progressed. Jim Randell, George Forbes, and "Red" Coughlin were the mainstays of the line while Dick Fuller alternated between the guard and fullback slot to help out the fleet-footed backfield stars, John Dilisio, Dana Coughlin, and Ron Corcoran. Passing by Dan Goodwin and Bill Loveday was deadly to our foes this year, as aeriels counted as many as three scores in one game.

In one of the most exciting games in a long time, the Swampscotters held Marblehead's strongest team in its history to a 6-6 tie for all but four minutes of the game, only to be edged in the last minutes, 12-6.

The Big Blue compiled impressive yardages on the ground and in the air as they scored 176 points while holding the opposition to 96. Things look bright for next year when co-captains Dick Fuller, Ron Corcoran and Dana Coughlin will lead the Blue and White to what we hope will be another successful season.

HIGHLIGHTS

The 1960 field hockey season opened on October 13 after weeks of practice under the excellent coaching of Mrs. Flora McLearn and Miss Mary Hanifey. At Melrose, both the first and second teams emerged victorious, with scores of 4-1 and 3-2. The team's hopes for a successful season were raised as they headed for Reading to play their second game. The outcome found the first team a 5-1 winner, while the 10-0 second-team rally set an impressive scoring record for this area. The Floradoras made their presence known at the Hockey Field Day in Newton on October 22 by being one of the few teams to win all three of its games. The girls defeated Plymouth 1-0; Newburyport, 5-0; and Arlington, 2-0.

On October 25 the Swampscott girls met their greatest challenge. After an exciting game, the Shore Country Day girls carried home a 2-0 victory. Making up for this misfortune was the second team's sweep, 1-0, to continue their undefeated streak. Swampscott traveled to Stoneham on November 1. This game proved difficult, as the team was able to penetrate the Stoneham nets but once.

A menacing storm blew up over Phillips Park on November 7, when Lynnfield, determined to defeat the Floradoras two years in a row, lined up against an equally set-to-win Swampscott team. The ending whistle blew on a disappointing 0-0 tie. The second team stepped in to push over one goal, winding up their season undefeated. The final game of the season saw the girls at Saugus. The forward line combined skills to add four more goals to their record and threatened the Saugus nets throughout the contest.

None of us will ever forget those practices extending until dusk; the innumerable divots marring the playing field; Miss Hanifey's immortal words, "Carol, when will you ever move to Marblehead!"; Diana's Minnie Mouse shoes; blisters; and, last but not least, Mrs. McLearn's much-repeated "All right, two laps around the field for being late again."

Many moods are evident as the team awaits the arrival of the opponent of the day.

HOOP HIGHLIGHTS

Coach Hal Martin really had his work cut out for him this year, since only two starters remained from last year's squad. The team greatly lacked height and experience, but what they lacked in these departments they certainly made up in spirit. Swampscott finished in fifth place with a record of six wins and eight losses. Since the Conference was exceptionally well balanced, the top five teams were very close throughout the season. Captain Dan Tolpin and Al DiPierro of Winthrop tied for a new foul-shot record as each dumped in 101 points from the charity line.

After an initial loss to Andover, the Blue and White employed a tight defensive game. In their second start, they completely surprised Conference-leader Danvers as they went on to win 41-32. In the biggest thriller of the season, the Martinmen edged Woburn 35-34. With Woburn ahead 34-33, Swampscott got the ball with four seconds remaining, and called a time out. The tip went in to Tolpin. In he went and he didn't miss. The fans nearly brought the house down. Big disappointments were twin losses to Marblehead in the final days of the season.

Along with Tolpin, several other players who consistently turned in good performances were Ray Hennessey, Pete Smith, Neil Denenberg, Bob Arnold, and Toby Moore. Dan Tolpin was elected captain for his second year, following the final Marblehead game.

The J.V.'s came out victorious in three of their games. With several of this year's starters returning next year, there are high hopes for a winning season in 1962.

FEMININE FINESSE

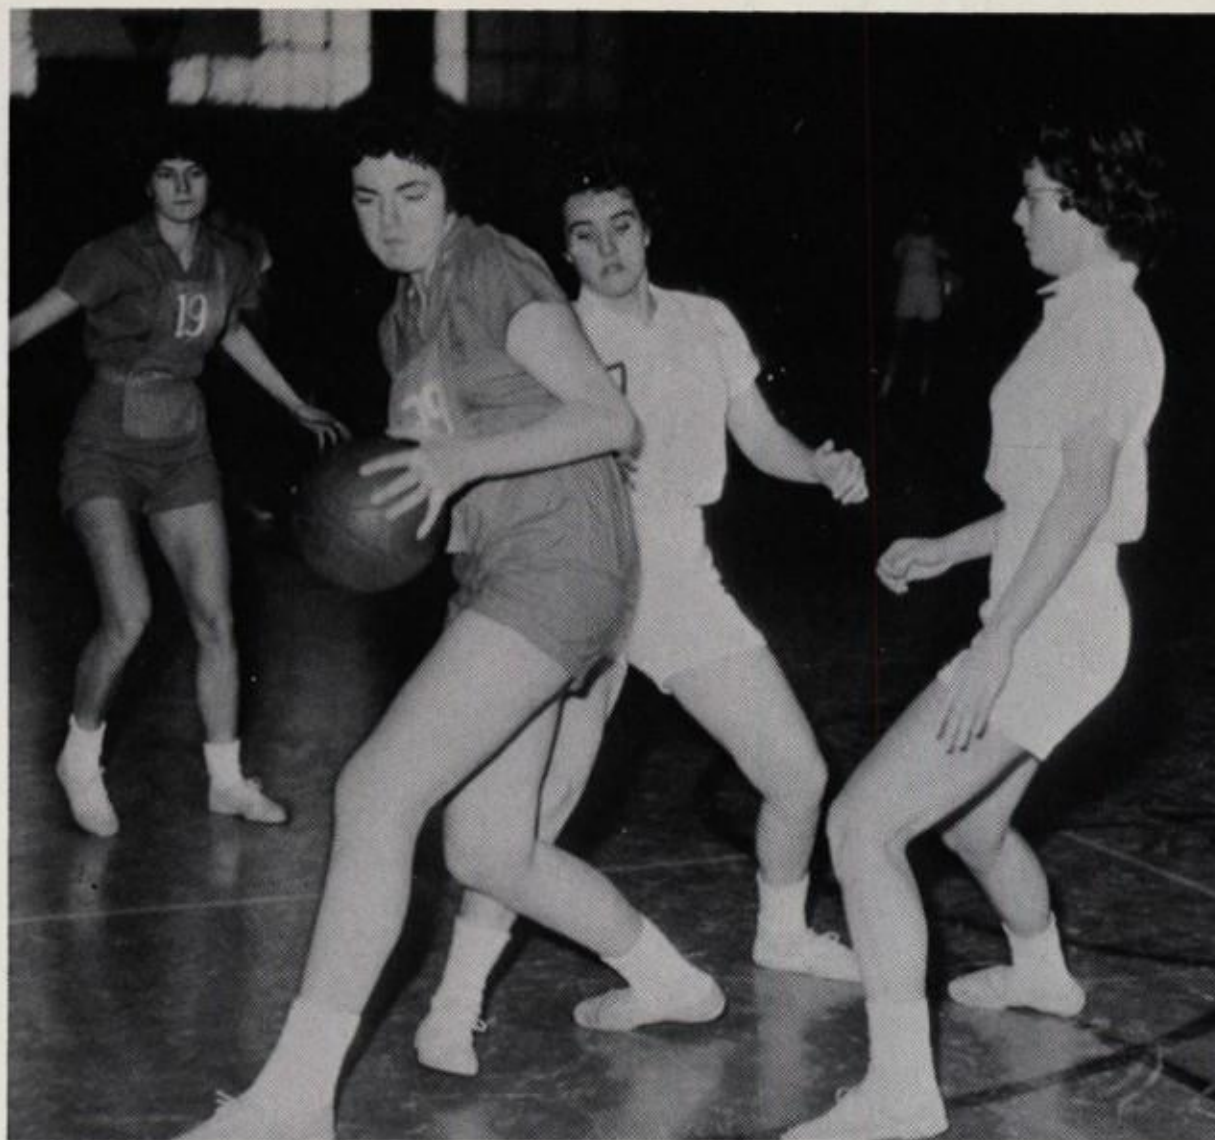

Swampscott's Floradora girls started the 1961 season with high hopes of continuing their outstanding record of undefeated play. The opening game was played on the home court and found the Swampscott girls pitted against one of their greatest rivals, Lynnfield. The game proved successful, as the Floradoras' first and second teams emerged victorious with scores of 44-25 and 26-15. The following week the girls boarded the bus for Beverly. Again they proved too much for their opponents. As the final period ended, the scoreboard read Swampscott 66, Beverly 35. The next game was played on the home court against Saugus. Before an enthusiastic group of faithful rooters the girls smothered the Saugus team by a score of 68-4.

The Floradora girls faced Reading as their next opponent. The first team easily overcame Reading's first with a score of 47-14. The second teams' game proved to be more exciting as Swampscott squeezed out a 28-24 victory. The following week saw Malden buried by the continuous accurate shots of both first and second teams. Next the Swampscott girls traveled to Lynnfield, to find themselves facing a team firmly set to break Swampscott's long winning streak. Trailing in the first three quarters, Swampscott had its guards change their pattern of defense from zone to man-to-man. This move proved to be the turning point of the game. The final score was 51-41.

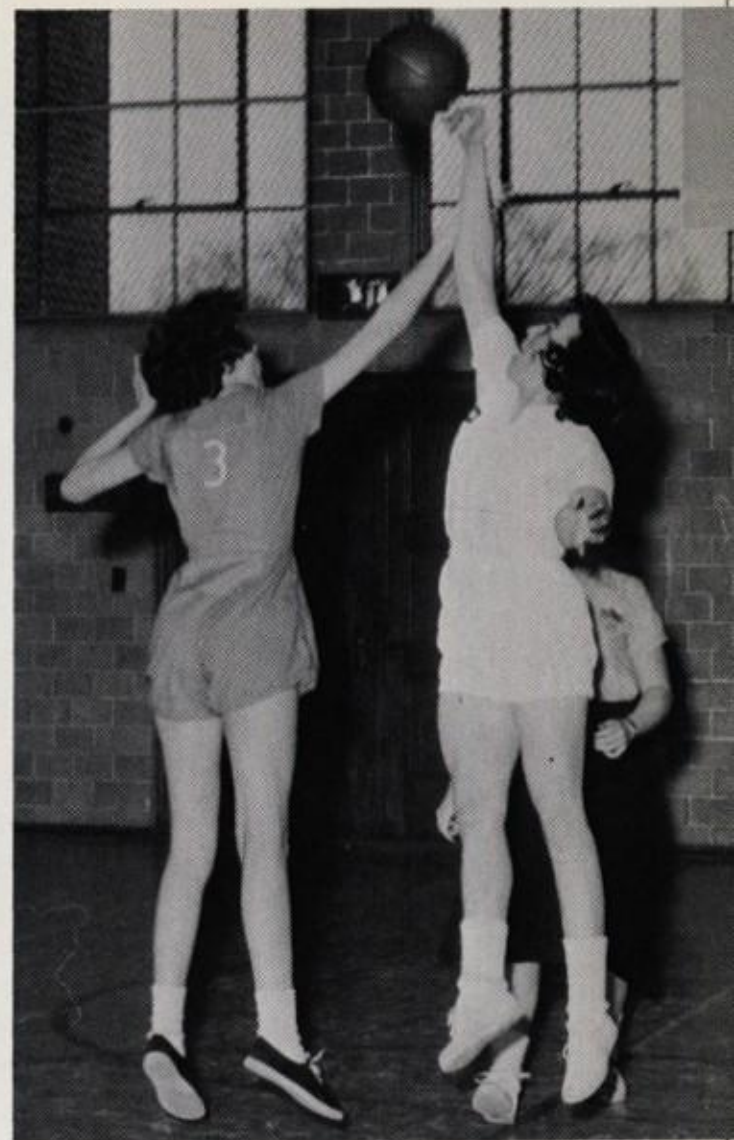

Soon after, Swampscott played hostess to a comparatively new Gloucester team. The Floradoras came through with a sweeping victory of 52-17. However, the inevitable day finally arrived, when the Melrose girls played hostess to the Floradoras. A highly spirited team put an end to the proudly-held undefeated record of Swampscott. The scores were 42-27 for the first team and 22-21 for the second. The final game was a return match with Beverly. The season ended happily with the Floradoras once again on top, 45-31. This victory raised hopes that the future basketball teams will build up a new winning streak.

FLASHING BLADES

The boys playing for the Big Blue made this season's record no exception to those of past years. Like last year, they ended the season in a solid fourth place in the Northeast Conference. In doing so, the boys compiled a record of eight wins, five losses, and one tie.

Because of the loss of several starters through graduation, S.H.S. had a very young team. Four of the players on our first two lines were sophomores. These boys — Rocky Rothwell, Bill Hinch, Steve Santanello, and Ty Andersen — have very bright futures in high school hockey. Two boys from the Big Blue made the All-Stars this year — Richie Fuller, who so ably filled the spot vacated by Peter Gnaedinger at defense, and John Dilisio, who ended the season as the league's fourth-highest scorer.

While compiling their 8-5-1 record, the boys of the Big Blue engaged in some very exciting contests, the best undoubtedly being the final game against Malden Catholic. Right up to the meeting with this team, there was a strong possibility of participating in the league playoffs. In that decisive match, Malden Catholic, the eventual League winner, went ahead early with three goals. The Big Blue started a comeback with two quick goals, but got under way a bit too late and fell short by one marker.

After the final game, Richie Fuller was elected captain of the ice squad for next year. He will be assisted by Bill Hinch and Jock White.

The Swing into SPRING

DIAMONDS, DIVOTS, AND DISTANCES

As the Sea Gull deadline approaches, so does spring. With the advent of a new season comes the thought of new athletic activities at Swampscott High School. At this time last year the students were hoping for another good season, and their hopes proved to be well founded.

The track team, under the capable direction of Mr. Lynch, had a fine season last year. The team compiled a 5-2 record while finishing third in the Northeast Conference. This spring, with the help of Dave Corbett, Alan Salerno, Bobby Arnold, Steven Engstrom, Peter Stevens, and Toby Moore, the team should come out on top. This year's golf team, under Coach Walter Henshaw, is a senior squad. Kevin Leonardi, team captain; Roger Volk, Billy Weissman, Dick Fermon, and Rick Spence comprise the membership. As juniors the boys ended the season with a 6-6 record. This gave them fourth place in the Northeast Conference. With the entire team returning this year, they have an excellent chance of improving their standing in the Conference.

Mr. Stevenson and his baseball team are looking forward to some good competition on the diamond. Because of the mid-season loss of Tom Sentner, one of the league's best pitchers, the squad was left in a precarious position last year. However, Tom is ready to go again, and this fact presages a good season. Returning this year to help the cause are Tom Corcoran, Dan Tolpin, Richie Fuller, Phil McTague, Mike Janvrin, and George Forbes. The girls have their share of the spring spotlight, too. Mrs. McLearn's softball team came up with a 3-1 record last year. Among the girls expected to play prominent parts this season are Janet Carlin, captain; Sue Farwell, Liz Burwen, Barbara Fermon, Susan Garfield, Camille Gatto, Ronnie Reimer, and Sally Harkins. All in all, prospects are bright on the track, links, and diamond.

CLASS OF 'SIXTY-TWO

CLASS OFFICERS

CLASS HISTORY

Our junior year is one that we shall never forget. It was in this year that we realized that the Class of '62 was no longer the "baby" of the school. Now that we are upperclassmen, however, we realize that graduation is only one year away.

Our first major task this year was class elections, which proved to be very competitive. After taking three votes of the entire class, we found that the following were successful: president, Richard Fuller; vice-president, Danny Tolpin; secretary, Debbie Werner; and treasurer, Kathy Carey. Those juniors who represent us in the Student Council are David Coughlin, Kathy Carey, Richard Fuller, Genevieve Gallo, Peter Gross, Kathy Hubbs, Lissa Mayo, Henry Legere, Phyllis Ramputi, Peter Pietrowski, Tommy Sentner, and Hayes Sogoloff.

Our Class of '62 has displayed great spirit in all S.H.S. activities. We had six juniors on the starting football line-up this fall and many more on the squad as substitutes. The 1961 Big Blue squad will be led by our co-captains Richard Fuller, Ronald Corcoran, and Dana Coughlin. We have contributed generously to the beauty and glamor of our cheerleading and drill team squads through Debbie Werner, Lissa Mayo, Kathy Carey, Mary Roy, Margaret Wotton, Marsha Townsend, and Kathy Hubbs.

We have also experienced sadness and loss. Bersey Loveday, our newly elected field hockey captain, was fatally injured in a tragic and unfortunate automobile accident. The entire school, and especially our class, mourn her death.

Swampscott High's ice hockey and field hockey teams were both well supported by the junior class. The girls' basketball team would not have enjoyed such a successful season without the great playing of some of our junior players. Danny Tolpin, a member of our class, is captain of the boys' basketball team.

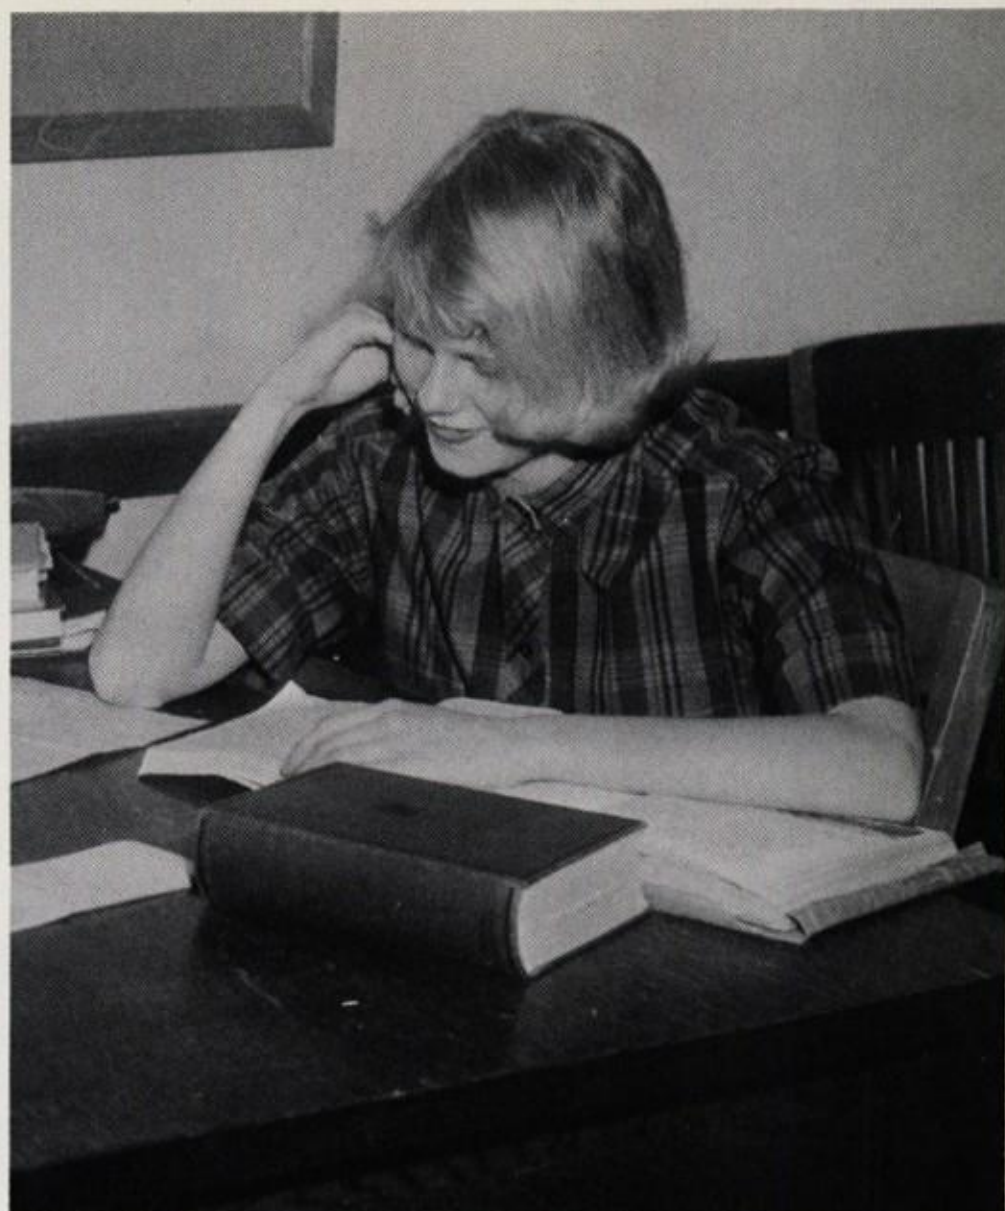

Under the direction of our class adviser, Mr. Michaels, the Class of '62 sponsored the "Beat Marblehead" dance held in November. Lou Marino's Band provided the music and a wonderful evening was added to our achievements.

Virginia Grimes and Karen Nylander became associate editors of Swampscotta this year, and the staff included many other juniors. The Ski Club, Math Club, International Relations Club, Band, and Glee Club all boasted of a large membership of juniors.

As we approach the end of our junior year, the Class of '62 looks back upon a very successful year of scholastic, social, and athletic accomplishments. We have climbed to the top of the "Hill" and we have survived there, and we are now ready to face our final and most important year. We know that we will never forget Swampscott High School, and we hope that Swampscott High will always remember its Class of '62.

CLASS OF 'SIXTY-THREE

CLASS HISTORY

Following our graduation from the Shaw Junior High School and our summer vacation, we, the Sophomore Class, entered Swampscott High School on September 7, 1960. Our first reaction was one of bewilderment, since many of us, being unfamiliar with the building, encountered confusion in finding our assigned class rooms. By the end of September however, most of us were well adjusted to our new environment. In November, we elected the following students as our class officers: Robert Hutchinson, president; Janet Martin, vice-president; Linda Babin, secretary; and Judi Kaufman, treasurer. Next came the election of two representatives from each home-room to the Student Council.

Some sophomores participated in the comedy Time Out for Ginger, which was presented by the Dramatics Club early in the winter. Many of us joined the Ski Club and found the trips enjoyable. At this time also, sophomores received various positions on the Sea Gull and Swampscotta staffs.

In athletics the junior varsity football team had a successful season under the able supervision of Coach Leon Marden. The basketball and hockey seasons proved equally successful.

Throughout the year, the school administration arranged to have qualified individuals speak to us on timely issues; one of the most notable was a Japanese speaker who compared and contrasted Japanese and American youths. Mrs. Cooper and Mr. Marden of the Guidance Department also invited many guests who spoke on the opportunities existing in various vocations.

An orientation program to familiarize sophomores with the high school library was included in the curriculum of the English Department, under the guidance and supervision of our librarian, Miss Katherine Trickey.

As our first social venture, we were the sponsors of Cupid's Caper on February 11, 1961. It was one of the most successful activities in which the class engaged during the year. Later, many sophomores showed their lively spirit and demonstrated their talents in song, dance, and comedy in the annual Talent Show, which took place on March 10 and 11.

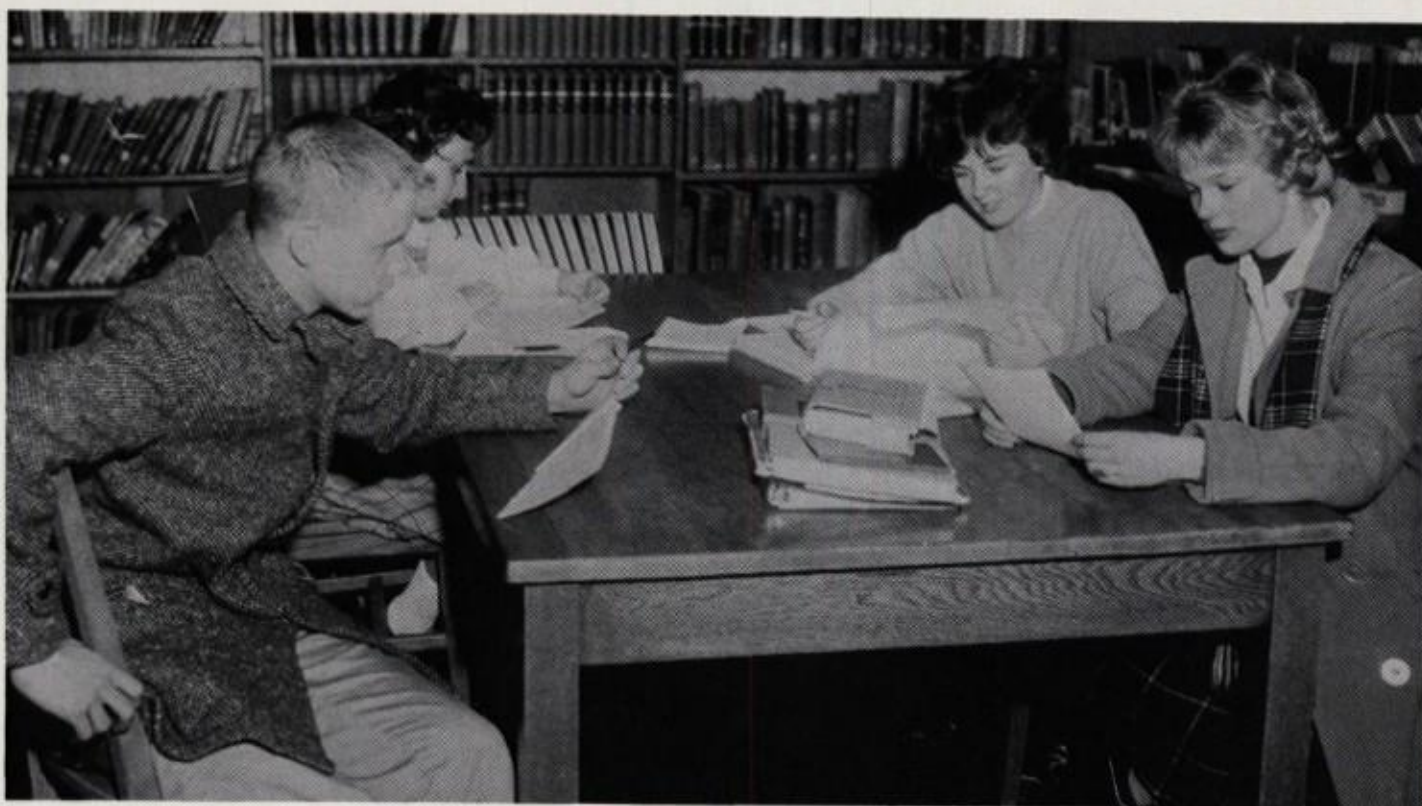

The arrival of spring brought another successful athletic season in baseball, track, and golf for the boys, and softball for the girls. With spring also came our first opportunity to attend a Junior Prom. In the latter part of June we participated for the first time in the two-hour final examinations. Most of us agreed it was an experience that we are not soon to forget.

We are deeply indebted to our class adviser, Mr. Robert Hayden, because the success of our social activities during the school year is due largely to the help which he so willingly and earnestly gave us. We believe that our first year at Swampscott High School has been profitable and rewarding.

Mr. Hayden, class adviser, checks plans for "Cupid's Caper" with committee members Sheila, Joyce, Linda, Janet, and Janet.

SOUTH PACIFIC

Most memorable of the dances of our high school days are the Junior and Senior Proms. The former marks the beginning, and the latter marks the ending, of a very important year. For the Class of '61, the beginning came on May 6, 1960. Making decorations for the Junior Prom began in February under the leadership of Louis Gallo. When April vacation arrived, the Ostrovitz cellar was filled with eager workers. Pink carnations — cut, tied, and fluffed — materialized out of tissue. Butterflies hovered on the cellar ceiling. Rolls of exotic murals stood in corners, waiting to transform the S.H.S. gym into a Hawaiian paradise. When May 6 dawned, carnations lined the lowered ceiling and butterflies flew among them. The murals completed the South Pacific setting, which seemed breath-takingly beautiful when prom-goers finally stepped through the arbor at the entrance to dance to Lou Marino's music.

In the course of the eventful evening, President Bob Arnold presented Miss O'Riordan with a beautiful Hawaiian lei in appreciation of the many hours she had spent with the class in preparation for the unforgettable dance.

Lois' wrap is left in care of Ted, one of the underclassmen whose willing services traditionally make prom night a smooth success.

BEAT MARBLEHEAD RALLY

Massed together at one end of the gym, the male contingent pays close attention to the proceedings.

RALLYING POINTS

Our Big Blue football season is climaxed by the Thanksgiving Day game. Almost as eagerly anticipated is the Beat Marblehead Rally, following the Thanksgiving Assembly. After a thought-provoking message from Principal James Dunn and the reading of the Governor's Proclamation, the 1960 rally went into full swing. Participants and audience were noticeably camera-conscious as a man from Station WBZ-TV filmed highlights of the proceedings, portions of which were televised the next day. Thus this year's rally featured a memorable S.H.S. "first."

With their unique mobile Big Blue Marlin, the seniors won the decoration contest, and they also took the eagerly awaited cheering competition. The cheerleaders' excellent work in conducting the rally did much to increase the team's will to win, and an especially fine performance was given by the band and drill team. Traditionally the coaches and several players are called upon to speak. Their messages were succinct, and as usual Coach Bondevitch injected both humor and inspiration into his remarks.

Exciting was the beginning and heartwarming was the ending of the rally when, to the roll of drums and blare of horns, the student body marched out "to do or die for Swampscott High."

Before the rally, David Landry reads the Governor's Thanksgiving Day Proclamation.

CAST

The hit comedy — Time Out for Ginger

Early in the season, Swampscott High's drama enthusiasts began work on the old-time Broadway hit comedy Time Out for Ginger, written by Ronald Alexander. Presented on the evening of December 9, 1960, the play provided enjoyment for the cast and the large audience alike. The plot centers around a suburban family with three teenage daughters and the resultant tribulations. Ginger, fourteen, still filled with the tomboy instinct, wants to play on the football team; Jeannie, sixteen is imbued with the desire to become a great actress; and Joan, eighteen, is entangled in her dating dilemmas. Their parents and the maid try patiently to tolerate and direct the girls' capricious activities. The climax comes when Ginger achieves her ambition, to the consternation of many and the joy of her proud father.

A good deal of hard work goes along with all the glory of presenting a play. The cast spent almost two months rehearsing under the guidance of the director, Mr. Harold I. Power, before opening night. In addition to the cast and Mr. Power, many other students and teachers gave their services supervising all the behind-the-scenes business — sets, lighting, sound effects, properties, costumes, make-up, tickets, ushers, and aides. Together, all worked to achieve a highly successful production, which set a high standard at S.H.S.

Like father, like daughter . . . Mr. Carroll (Neal Denenberg) shows his football-star daughter (Edye Comins) some of the tricks of the trade.

September 1960 marked the official opening of another successful season for our High School Band. Under the leadership of Drum Major Donald Weinstein and Assistant Drum Major Peter Gross, the band started the football season with a full marching complement of eighty members. With the assistance of the drill team, the band entertained at each Saturday football game with colorful formations and arrangements. The many stirring matches, new formations, and novelty numbers practiced by both the band and drill team added much to the festivities of the biggest game of the season, on Thanksgiving Day. Under the gaze of a capacity crowd, the musical group offered a completely new program to climax the 1960 marching season.

After the fall activities had ended, no time was wasted in organizing the concert band, which immediately began preparing for a full schedule of coming events. Seasonal events for our concert band ranged from fund-raising performances to exchange concerts and district conventions with neighboring high schools. Funds for the year's expenses came from the proceeds of a candy sale held in October. On February 3, the band presented its first offering of the concert season, in collaboration with the Lynn High School Band. Next followed a Music Festival held at Woburn, an annual event at which the band is judged on its marching and instrumental accomplishments. In April and May the concert band took part in an exchange program with its counterpart at Gardner High School. In the final appearance of the 1960-61 season, the band marched in the annual Memorial Day parade in appreciation of the support given the group by the townspeople.

It has always been the primary purpose of the band to offer cultural advantages by developing in its members a lasting appreciation of instrumental music. None of this year's accomplishments during the football and concert seasons could have been possible without the guidance of Mr. Donald Hammond. Under his direction, the band was able to carry out successfully one of the busiest seasonal programs it has ever undertaken.

Marilyn and Meri proudly display a poster advertising one of the most enjoyable features of our band's concert season.

Jane gets in a few minutes of practice after school in the band office.

To the amusement of Mr. Hammond and the rest, Pete tries a solo on his homemade trumpet during a last-period lesson.

DRILL TEAM

One of the most colorful of the Drill Team's routines has a patriotic note.

Swinging in the rain . . . Peggy, Essie, and Carlene add much to the color of the half-time.

CURLS AND TWIRLS

Among the foremost activities for the girls at Swampscott High School is participation in two groups, the Cheerleaders and the Drill Team. These two organizations give the distaff side a chance to display their loyal spirit and to add colorful entertainment to the boys' sports.

Under the supervision of Mrs. McLearn, the Drill Team combined their acrobatic and dance steps with umbrellas and shakers to present several unique routines this year. With the assistance of Mr. Bertram, the girls demonstrated their ability to lead the band when they combined with it to march in the street parades. Especially noticeable this year was the addition of the use of flags in the performances.

In rain or shine, the Cheerleaders encouraged the spirit of the student body with their energetic yells. The girls created several new spirit-routers which they performed for the first time during the rally before the opening game of the football season. And what would the Thanksgiving rally be like without the enthusiasm aroused by Captain Janet and Pat, Sue, Judy, Lissa, Kathy, Debbie, Diana, and Liz? Throughout the basketball season, too, the cheering squad followed the varsity to all the games, giving the boys support and the spectators enjoyment.

At the traditional Thanksgiving game, the Drill Team, with the cooperation of the Cheerleaders, performed a successful enactment of a meeting of the United Nations. As a result of these ventures, both participants and spectators fully enjoy the activities of the Cheerleaders and Drill Team.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

Carol, Bob, Judy, and Mike exchange gifts and season's greetings under the tree.

"All work and no play" is hardly the case in most people's lives today. Here at S.H.S. we believe in a judicious mixture of the two, in order to build school spirit as well as to provide a variety of social activities for the whole student body. With the coming of Halloween, the social season at Swampscott High had swung into action. For their first undertaking of the year, the seniors sponsored the Barn Dance. They also arranged the traditional Christmas Dance to mark the beginning of the holiday activities. Climaxing the social events for the Class of '61 was their unforgettable Senior Prom.

Underclassmen did their share in transforming the usually austere gym into a place of festivity. The sophomores held a Valentine's Day dance on February 11. The juniors launched their activities with the Beat Marblehead Dance. In May came the highlight of their year, the Junior Prom.

Contributing to the social life of S.H.S. were other organizations besides classes. The Student Council ran a Back-to-School hop in the fall. The Ski Club held its second annual Winter Carnival and Ball. Time Out for Ginger, the School Play, and the Talent Show, sponsored by the seniors, added a change of pace to the schedule.

The Christmas tree adds magic to the evening for Rich and Meri.

SKI CLUB

Ski Club officers Janet Carlin, Mike Janvrin, and Sue Farwell have had plentiful snow right around S.H.S. on which to practice their skiing techniques this winter.

ARCTIC ANTICS

Swampscott High's "Ski Whacks" enjoyed an eventful season this snowy year under the supervision of the club adviser, Ralph B. Earle. Our many ski enthusiasts took trips to Mt. Sunapee, Mt. Pleasant, and Mt. Snow. A new addition to the club's belongings was a movie camera purchased by the members to take films of the ski trips. Officers this year were Jim Randall, president; Mike Janvrin, vice-president; Sue Farwell, treasurer; and Janet Carlin, secretary. Their enthusiasm for the sport was very often the driving influence behind the many successful trips.

On March 4, the Ski Club sponsored its second annual winter dance, this year called the "Sno-Ball." The dress was semi-formal, and the couples danced to the music of Norm White and his orchestra. Karen Smith, a sophomore, was chosen "Winter Queen" at the dance, and she presided regally over her subjects. The ingeniously beautiful decorations were designed and put in place by seniors Beth Marston and Claire Finniss. These two hardworking artists were responsible for the pleasant atmosphere that characterized the evening.

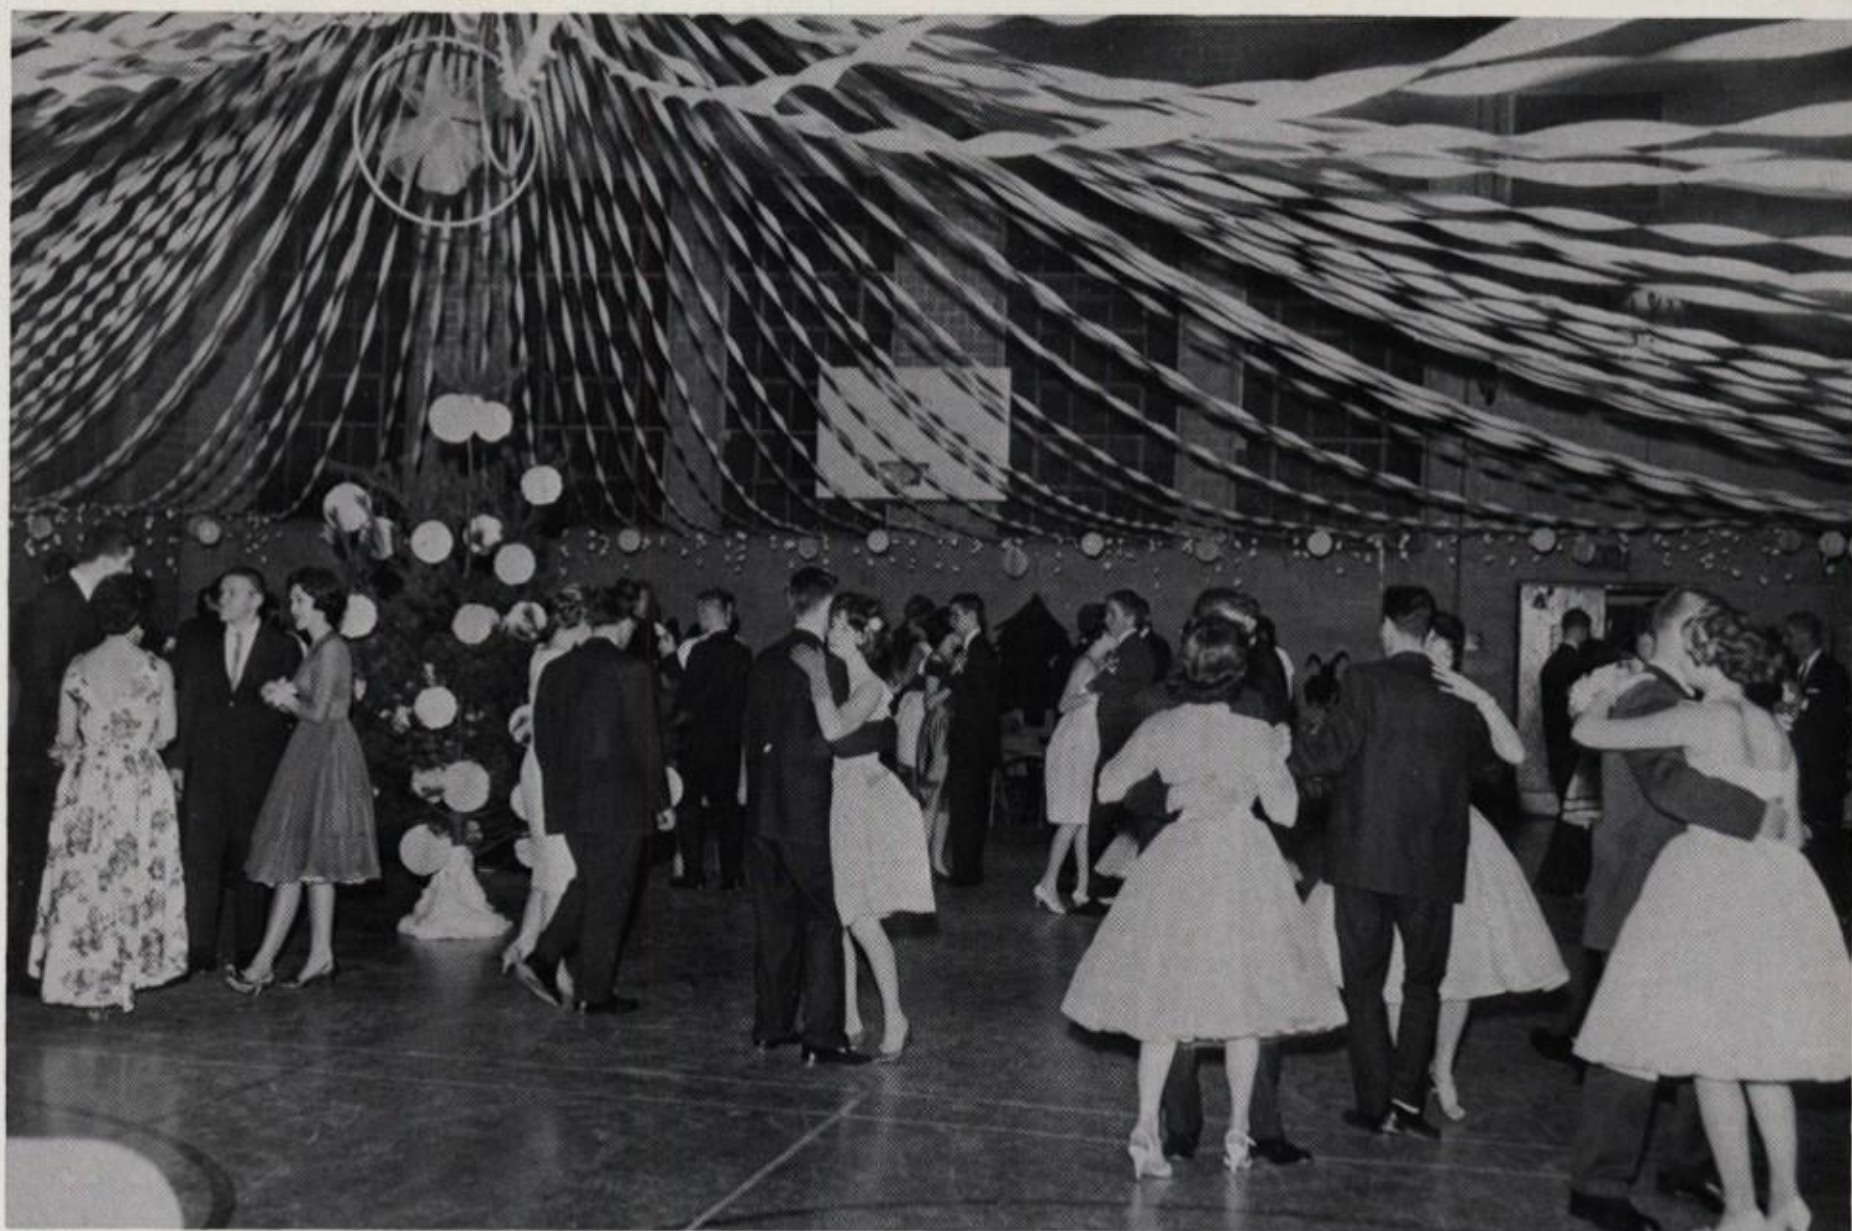

The Ski Club has provided a healthful and enjoyable outlet for the pent-up winter energies of S.H.S. students. Judging by the ever-growing popularity of skiing, it will continue to do so in the future.

SNOW BALL

A pink and white motif gives the gym a festive air for the second annual ball sponsored by the "Ski Whacks."

Pleasant conversation fills the time between dances to the music of Norm White.

TALENT SHOW

S. H. S. CAPADES

Unusual props help to brighten the act of "Sisters" Holly Thompson and Marilyn Rainone.

Diane Hoseason sings "Honey Bun."

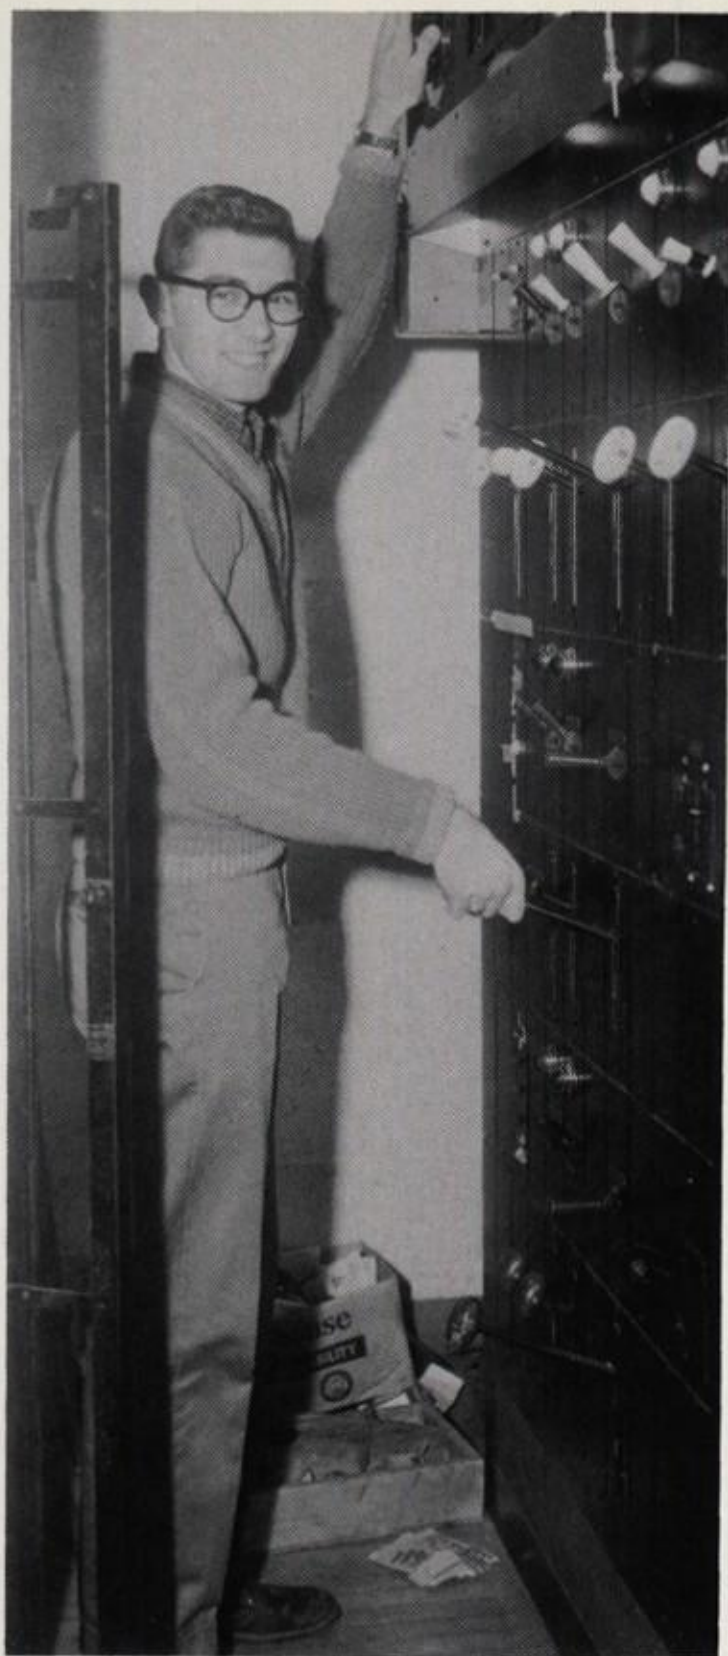

M. C. Roger Volk's easy manner helps to pace the show smoothly.

Janet Bailey and Karen Smith give a taste of the modern dance.

Director Bev offers suggestions during rehearsal.

Gordon Laumann, David Frank, Bob Johnson, and Jim Morley swing in the "Cyclones."

Behind the scenes, Marty Rosen controls the light panel.

Try-outs for this year's Talent Show were off to a start in the middle of December, and by the time the new year had arrived, practices were well underway. Soon the auditorium was ringing with the strains of music played by the "Cyclones," an up-and-coming sophomore rock 'n' roll group. Tricycles were routed out of cellars for the "Sisters" act of Holly Thompson and Marilyn Rainone. The conventional ballet and the modern dance provided a contrast in style with Connie Silverman's original dance number.

Gradually the "S.H.S. Capades" began to take shape under the capable direction of Pat Davis and Beverly Siskind. The show dates, March 10 and 11, were anticipated by all the students as they heard the sounds of daily rehearsal in the assembly hall after school. Everyone knew that this senior-run function was going to rank highly on the list of five talent shows which the school had produced. All the classes took part in the show and each was represented by excellent acts.

Our talented pianist, Marilyn Newth, did a wonderful job transposing and harmonizing the accompaniment for each musical group. Barb Goodman, in charge of stage settings, worked in coordination with Marty Rosen, chairman of the lighting committee, to give the production a truly theatrical atmosphere.

We will always look back on this activity, which was the product of so many willing hands, with a great deal of pride and satisfaction.

Margaret Wotten as "The Belle of the Ball."

CLASS HISTORY

It was 8:40 A.M., September 4, 1957 — a new time assigned to the new freshman class embarking on new adventures. As we entered the auditorium, which seemed so huge, we felt very old, until we met our first seniors. Then we realized our lowly state!

Under the watchful eyes of Miss Margaret O'Riordan, our adviser for the next four years, we joined with those "formidable" upperclassmen and adorned the corridor walls with campaign posters. Following the collection of the never-to-be-forgotten poll tax, Richard Leger (since departed for another alma mater) was elected our chief for that first trying year. It was not all school books and "politics," for our own Baby Blue upheld the tradition established three years before our arrival on the Hill — an undefeated season. And on the opposite side of the field, eight "Frosh" played hockey with the Floradoras. The social world was soon aware of our talents when we sponsored our first dance, the "Spring Fling," in April. Yes, we studied hard, played hard, and became a part of Swampscott High School. As we dashed down the front steps of S.H.S. that closing day in June, we couldn't believe a year had gone by, or know how much faster the next three would pass.

As autumn leaves began to fall, another year was started and we ventured forth to our first, real, "four-walled" homerooms. Not yet upperclassmen but at least no longer lowly Freshmen, we "wise-fools" proceeded to elect Peter Mayer president (of our class, that is!) After a season of J.V. sports, we ventured into the entertainment world with the "Jamaicans" and "Honeybunners." Time passed and, lo and behold, 'twas St. Patrick's Day. Gaily we adopted brogues, took up shillelaghs and donned anything green we had for Mick McGilligan's Ball. Who was that non-conformist wearing orange? Warm breezes drifted into classrooms and we travelled to track meets and baseball games, aware that summertime was soon to come. Latin books were returned, compasses set aside, rulers shoved into pockets, and another year in the history of the Class of '61 was closed.

"School bells ring and children sing — it's back to S.H.S. again." This year, we all firmly resolved, would not glimpse the antics of previous seasons but see us scholars — one and all. Fair competition broke the atmosphere of Shakespearean drama and chemistry equations as voting time rolled around once again. Bob Arnold was our unchallenged class president. Dave Corbett and Jim Randell aided the Big Blue in overpowering the Magicians, and in anticipation of this feat we sponsored the Beat Marblehead Dance. With the arrival of Spring, we viewed "You Can't Take it with You" — our own Roger securing a lead and adding not only a line but a laugh in going out to get a peanut butter sandwich. Yet, most prominent of all our events was the prom, "South Pacific." Remember Marge's party, the very low ceiling, and always May 6?

"No one could be prouder"

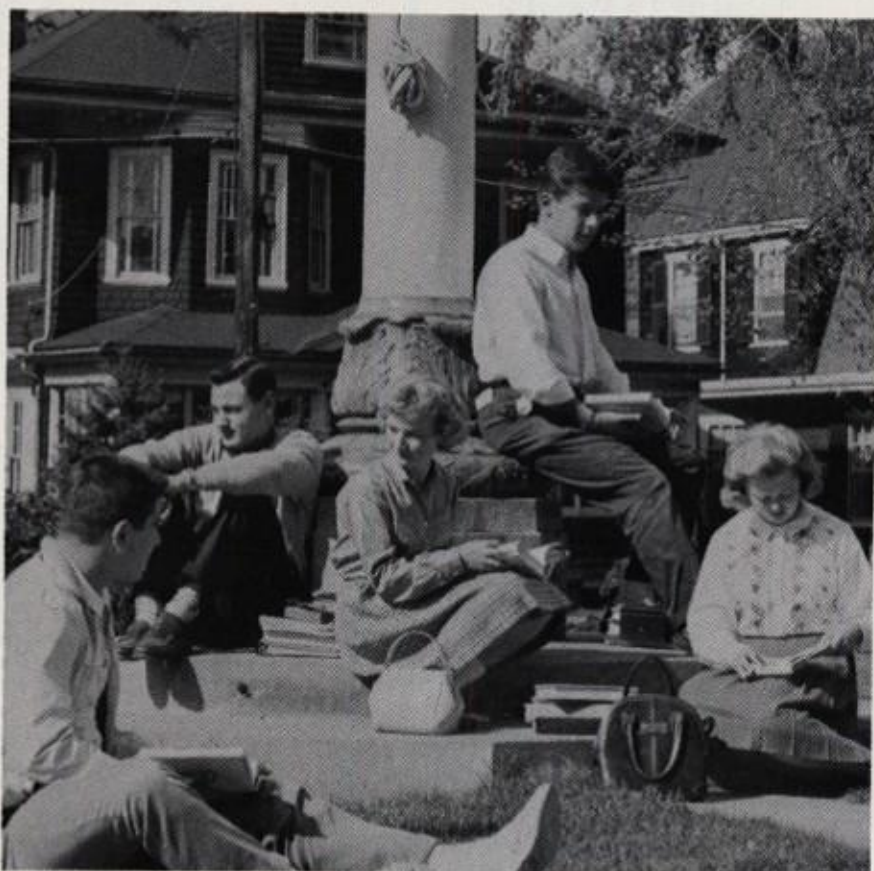

It was a time of PSAT's, a trip to New York, a carnival queen, practice achievement tests, a Walter Brennan award — a time of learning. There was only one year left to fulfill so many hopes, one VERY big year when we would be seniors.

Just three years ago we had thought that 1960-61 would never arrive, but now that it had, we realized how fast those years had gone by. We studied with much more zest than previously — after all, this was our last chance to prove ourselves, not only to teachers and parents, but also to admissions directors and future employers.

Elections were held and such spirited competition had never taken place before. We seniors had to vote four times for class president, the count was so close! Roger Volk, our triumphant campaigner, led the way with Tom Santanello, Brenda Keenan and Tom Peters as we proceeded with fund-raising plans. What was in the treasury?

Did someone mention U. N. papers? And how many cards do you have? That fateful day arrived — October 20 — papers were due. How late were you up October 19? Debbie Ross was announced winner of the competition; Carolyn Backman and Pat Davis were runners-up.

Then came preparations for the Thanksgiving Day rally and half-time festivities of THE game. Spirit, unity and athletic skill were at their height as the Big Blue team displayed their good sportsmanship after the hard-fought game. Following our very brief vacation, we returned to S.H.S. eager to finish the plans for our "Christmas in the Forest." With the able leadership of Pat Smith, the dance decor was not only beautiful but cleverly executed.

Lunchtime affords minutes for sunshine and study.

The piano lures a happy group during a brief pause in picture-taking for the Senior Poll.

Ces Gens Qui Passent seemed to be the biggest winter homework problem. But then there were solid geometry theorems, another history research paper, Hamlet and Latin mythology! Who said seniors have a life of ease?

January 17 passed and we hoped we had done the same on the S.A.T.'s. College applications had been filed and in the midst of this studying (and worrying), we took time out for the S.H.S. Capades. Pat and Bev directed the big show to a peak of success. "Sure these are our kind of people!" Achievement tests were taken and we awaited acceptances . . . and refusals.

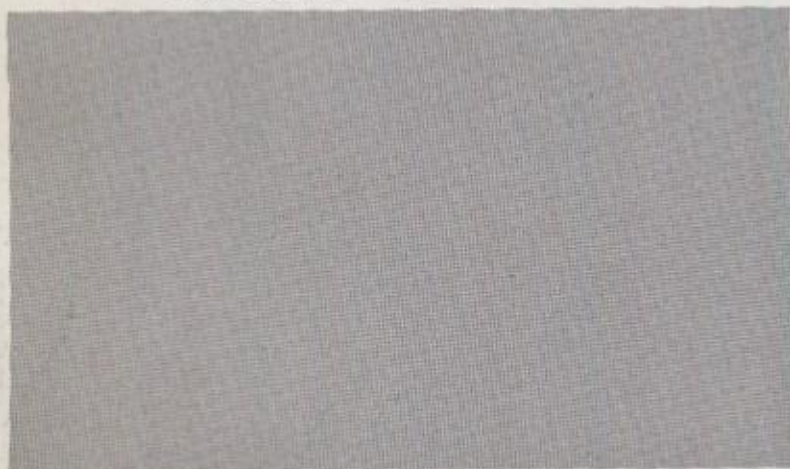

As we watched for mail, plans for senior week became more exciting; they would soon be reality. There was the car wash, the baccalaureate service and — graduation. But, perhaps, supreme was the thought of our fabulous, marvelous, wonderful Senior Prom, "Holidays in Venice."

We have finally reached the threshold; we have the key to open the door. Yes, our future seems to rest on what we have gained from our years on the Hill. Only four short years, but years we will remember always, for "we're from S.H.S. and NO ONE could be prouder, and if you don't believe us, we'll yell a little louder."

ELIZABETH R. APPEL

"Just whistle and I'll come running," says Robin. This pretty miss with her strikingly lovely hair keeps especially busy in the fall with hockey and Drill Team. After college, she plans to study dancing.

Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Drill Team 3, 4; SEA GULL 4; Dramatics Club 4; Junior Red Cross 2; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 3, 4; Talent Show 4.

SUSAN ALLEN

Sue, quiet and friendly, has her cap set for success. Whether to be an occupational therapist or a teacher is a problem yet unsolved, but it is certain that her quiet confidence will carry her along her chosen path.

Guidance Missiles 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4; SEA GULL 4.

Whether engaged in football, student council meetings, or class meetings, Bob is well liked and respected. His plans center around the field of civil engineering.

Football 1, 2, 3, Co-captain 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; SWAMPSCOTTA 1, 2, 3, Business Manager 4; SEA GULL 1, 3, 4; Class President 3; Boys' State 3; Student Council 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Council 1, 2, 3.

NANCY J. ANDERSON

Fun-loving Nancy enjoys not only all types of sports but also Dazie meetings and slumber parties. Her plans include junior college next year.

Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, Captain 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, Co-captain 4; Intramural Softball 1, 2, 3, 4; SWAMPSCOTTA 4; SEA GULL 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 3, 4; Student Council 2; Class Council 2.

CAROLYN BACKMAN

Strawberry blonde hair, a peaches and cream complexion, and a ready smile are just a few of Carolyn's attributes. Her sincerity and intelligence will stand her in good stead in the coming years.

SWAMPSCOTTA 4; SEA GULL 2, 4; Dramatics Club 2, 3, 4; International Relations Club 4; Junior Red Cross 1; Guidance Missiles 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4.

A glimpse of the past . . .

MARJORIE J. BAKALAR

Anything from a Dazie meeting to receiving a letter evokes a characteristic "Unbelievable!" from blonde, fun-loving Margie. With her gift of persuasion, she should find success in the legal profession.

Basketball Manager 3, 4; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Dramatics Club 2, 3, 4; SWAMPSCOTTA 4; SEA GULL 4; Decorations Committee 2, 3, 4; Talent Show 3, 4; School Play 3, 4.

MARILYN BERENZON

Start with a smile, add a few curls, a pair of green eyes, a cheerful personality, and, presto, there's "Mal". A very popular senior, she finds her greatest pleasure in driving to Revere.

Intramural Basketball 3; SEA GULL 4; SWAMPSCOTTA 4; Travel Club 3, 4; Dramatics Club 2, 3; Library Club 2, 3; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4; Talent Show 3, 4.

WILLIAM G. BITHELL

Good-natured Bill, never at a loss for words, has a knack for confusing teachers. His pleasant mixture of friendliness and sincerity will be an asset to him in the future. Bill, an enthusiastic radio "ham," is looking forward to "making millions" as an engineer.

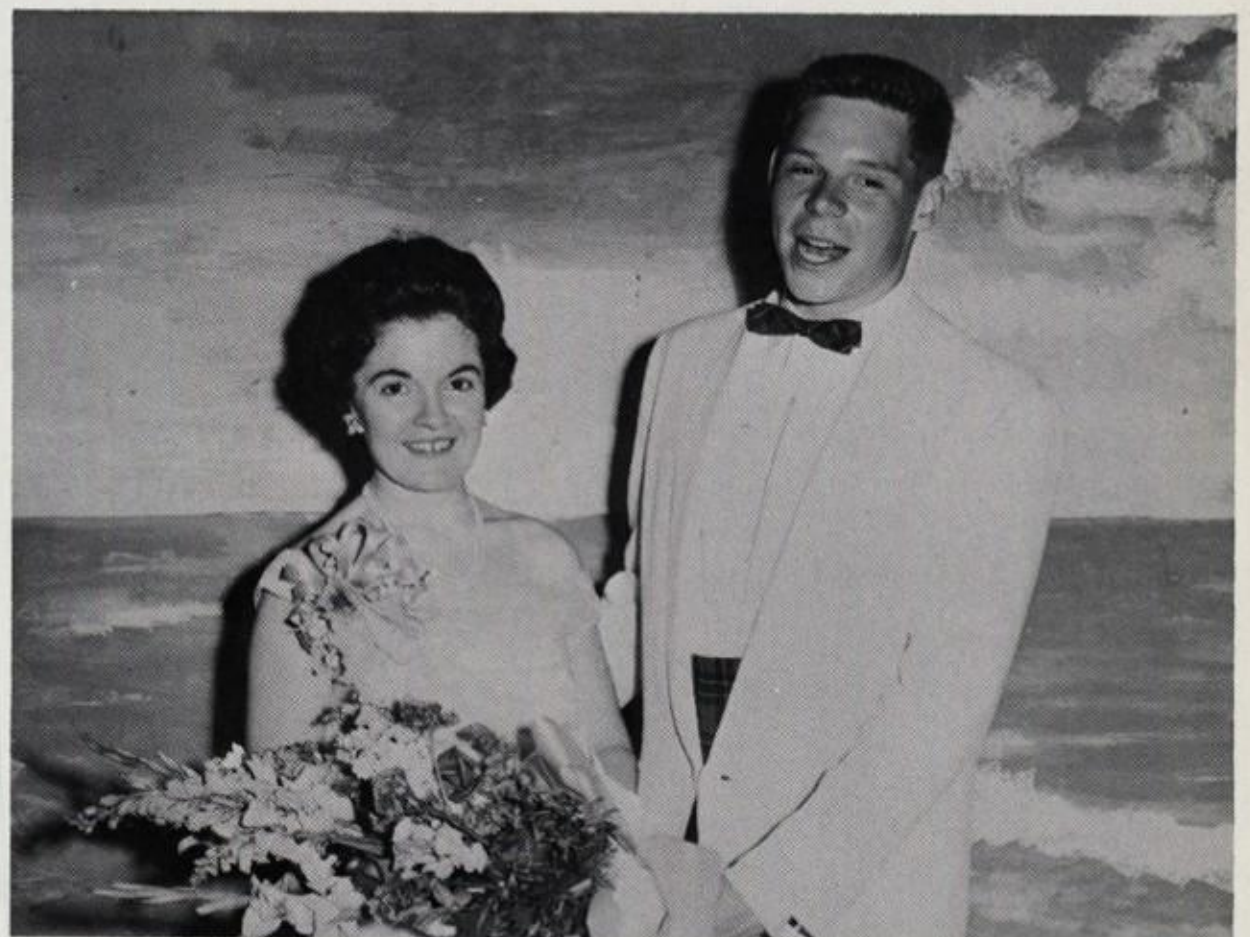

Radio Club, Vice-President 2, President 3.

RICHARD A. BERRY

His friends often hear, "Where do you think I'm going?" from red-headed Dick. Judging from Dick's performances on our hockey squad, he has a good chance of becoming a member of the Olympic Hockey Team.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Ice Hockey 1, 2, 3, Co-captain 4; Track 1; Baseball 1, 2, 3; Decorations Committee, 2, 3, 4.

Miss O'Riordan, our class adviser, and Bob Arnold, our Junior class president, were outstanding personalities at the Junior Prom.

THE SENIORS

NANCY M. BLOOM

Have a problem? "Nan" is always there to help you solve it. She enjoys just about everything, especially going on jaunts to Peabody with Ellen and Judy. Next year she plans to attend business school.

SWAMPSCOTTA 1, 2; Band 1; Travel Club 3, 4; Dramatics Club 1, 2; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 3, 4; Talent Show 4.

EDWARD M. BLOOMBERG

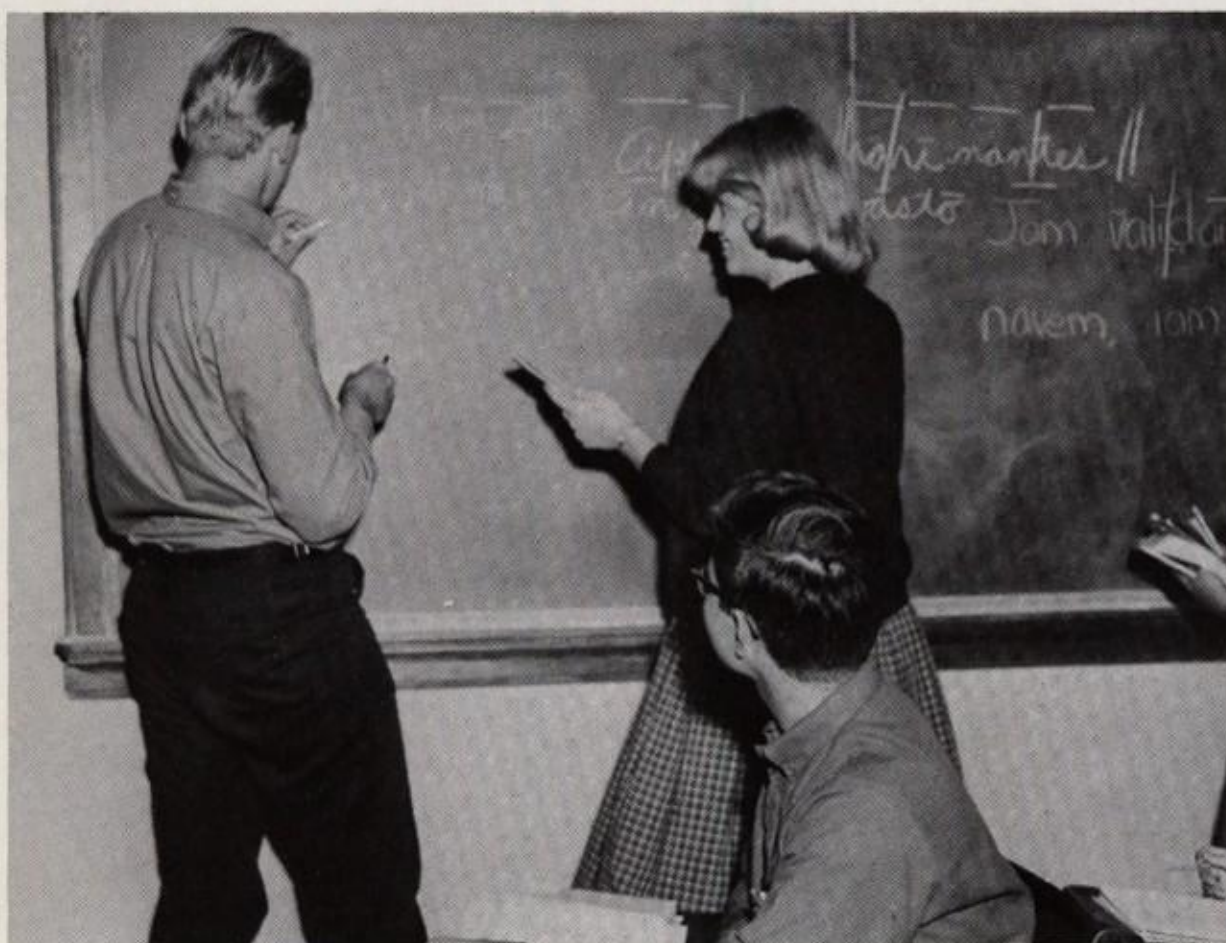

"Why not?" asks Ed, when figuring out a tough physics problem. This future college professor has interests which range from cryptanalysis to music, but mathematics is his real love. Next year he hopes to attend Yale or Cal. Tech. Band 1, 2, Student Conductor 3, 4; Chess Club 2; Cheminauts 3; Math Club 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Regional Math Contest 3.

ELLEN K. BOND

Ellen is known at S.H.S. by her friendly smile and habitual "Oh." Her interests include Tony, Dazie meetings, and football parties.

Field Hockey 1; Intramural Basketball 2; SWAMPSCOTTA 3, 4; Dramatics Club 2; Ski Club 2, 3, 4; Junior Red Cross 1; Guidance Missiles 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 2, 3, 4; Talent Show 4; Student Council Treasurer 4; Class Council 4.

Joan and Jim apparently find scanning Latin verse quite easy, as does Eddie, an interested observer.

DAVID L. BRETT

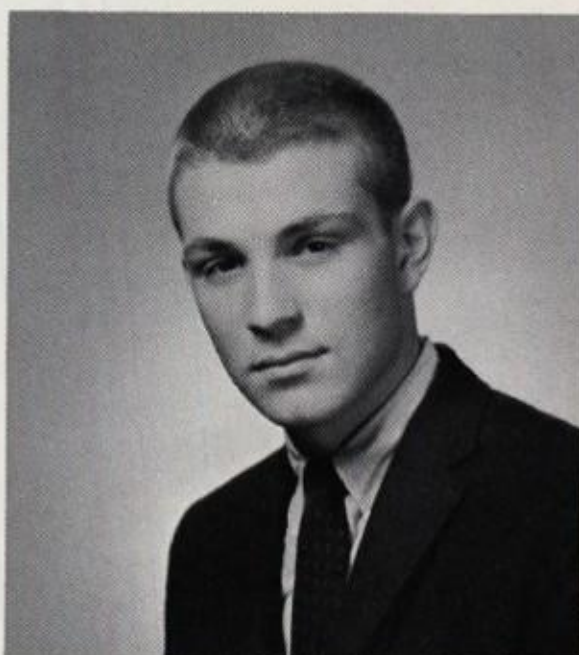

Dave spends most of his time working on his job or on his little foreign car. His wit and carefree attitude are always in evidence. With the background of a Salem State College education, Dave plans to make his mark in the business world. His ambition is to be rich some day.

'SIXTY-ONE

MARTIN BRODY

Although both future plans and his choice of college still remain undecided, Marty knows that he will be a big success in later life. Good music, traveling, photography, and vacations take up much of Marty's time outside of school. SWAMPSCOTTA 3, 4; Travel Club 4; Dramatics Club 4; International Relations Club 3, 4; Talent Show 4.

JACK BROWN

One of our car enthusiasts, Jack also enjoys going to parties and horseback riding. After attending college, he plans a career as an executive. Later in life he hopes to be president of General Motors. SEA GULL 4; Travel Club 3, 4; Dramatics Club 3, 4; International Relations Club 3, 4; Decorations Committee 4; Talent Show 4.

LINDA BROWN

"Are you serious?" asks Lin, a bright-eyed member of our class. We expect Lin to succeed in all that she does because of her good nature, lively spirit, and friendly disposition. She plans to become a private secretary next year and hopes some day to marry. Glee Club 1, 2.

STEVEN S. BROWN

"Brownie," S.H.S.'s own Marlon Brando minus the motorcycle jacket, spends a lot of time cruising around Swampscott on his cycle. With high financial aspirations, he hopes to enter Franklin Institute and eventually have a lucrative career as an electronics draftsman. Football 1, 2, 3; Basketball 2; Track 1; Ski Club 3, 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4.

ELIZABETH BURWEN

Liz divides her time among cheering for the Big Blue, Jerry, and parties. Next year she will attend a school for the preparation of dental assistants. Field Hockey 1, 2, 3; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Softball 2, 3, 4; Cheerleading 1, 3, 4; SWAMPSCOTTA 4; Travel Club 3; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 1, 2, 3, 4; Talent Show 4.

BRENDA J. BUTTERWORTH

Jolly, friendly, and congenial — that's Brenda. An enthusiastic supporter of S.H.S. athletics, "B.B." attends all the games when she isn't eating peanut butter sandwiches or getting more pumpkins for Mr. Stevenson. Field Hockey 1, 2; Intramural Basketball 2; Travel Club 4; Ski Club 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 4; Talent Show 4.

THE SENIORS

ARMAND CAPADAQUA

Armand joined our class only this year, but his mathematical ability was readily recognizable. In the future he hopes to impart some of his talent to others by becoming a teacher. His quiet and reserved nature should give him excellent control over his classes. Next year he will attend a college to prepare for his profession.

LOIS J. CAPPUCIO

Since Lois is an efficient typist, she is much in demand by the school publications. Next year, she plans to be a secretary. Her life ambition is to become a housewife.

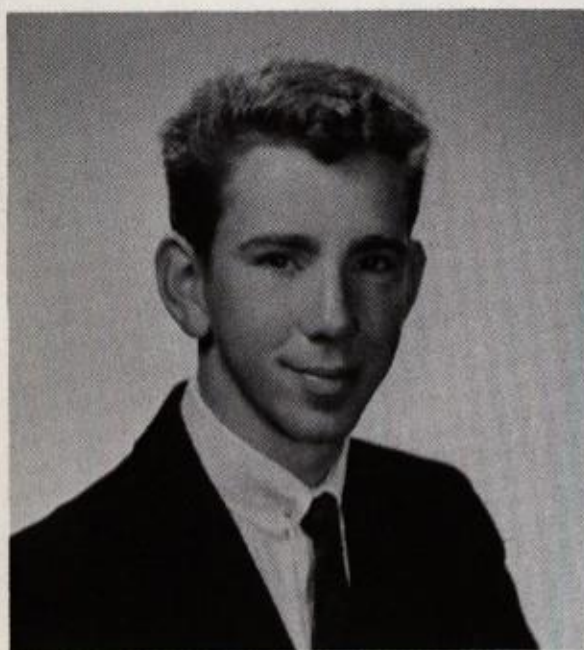

SEA GULL 4; Item Reporter 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Library Club 1; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4.

JANET R. CARLIN

Athletic Jan plans to make teaching and traveling around the world her career. Among her many interests are skiing, Dazie meetings, and parties.

Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Softball 1, 2, 3, Captain 4; SWAMPSCOTTA 4; SEA GULL 4; Cheminaults, Secretary 3; Ski Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Junior Red Cross 2, 3; Decorations Committee 3, 4; Student Council 1.

MAURICE M. CARROLL

"Moe," a relaxed yet ambitious person, is always on hand to enjoy a good joke. Being an expert mechanic, he is inevitably near a car, whether in, on, or under it. An easy-going red-head, "Moe" plans to study for a career in teaching.

Football 1, 2; Basketball 1; Post Reporter 4; Travel Club 3, 4.

SHERMAN CLEBNIK

Sherm's plans following graduation include attending a New England college, where he will major in the specialized field of geology, with hopes of becoming a successful scientist. Some of his interests and pastimes outside of school include mineral collecting, cartooning, DeMolay, and Explorers.

SWAMPSCOTTA 2, 3, 4; Cheminaults 3, 4; International Relations Club 3, 4; Guidance Missiles 4.

DANIEL P. COBBETT

Dan, quiet but friendly, spends much of his time at DeMolay, where he is the Master Councilor. His interest in boating has led him to apply for admission to a school of naval engineering, with hopes for a career in that field.

Ice Hockey 3, 4; Track 2; Ski Club 4.

AUDREY COHEN

Audrey's a girl with an ever-ready smile and friendly disposition. She'll quickly answer "Oui" to the question "Parlez-vous francais?" Outside of school, Audrey studies Hebrew and attends meetings of Alpha Lambda and U.S.Y. Her plans include attending Simmons and then teaching teenagers to speak French as well as she does.

SEA GULL 4.

ROSLYN COOPERSTEIN

Roz always seems to know "she did horribly," but she's always on the top of the pile when marks are tallied. A liberal arts college will be happy to see this bright-eyed girl coming.

SWAMPSCOTTA 4; SEA GULL 4; Travel Club 3, 4; Dramatics Club, Treasurer 2, 3; International Relations Club 3, 4; Guidance Missiles 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4.

DAVID M. CORBETT

"Red," an amiable person, is well liked by all his classmates. A sports enthusiast, he is equally at home on gridiron or track. Next year a business school will help Dave become even more efficient in his father's store.

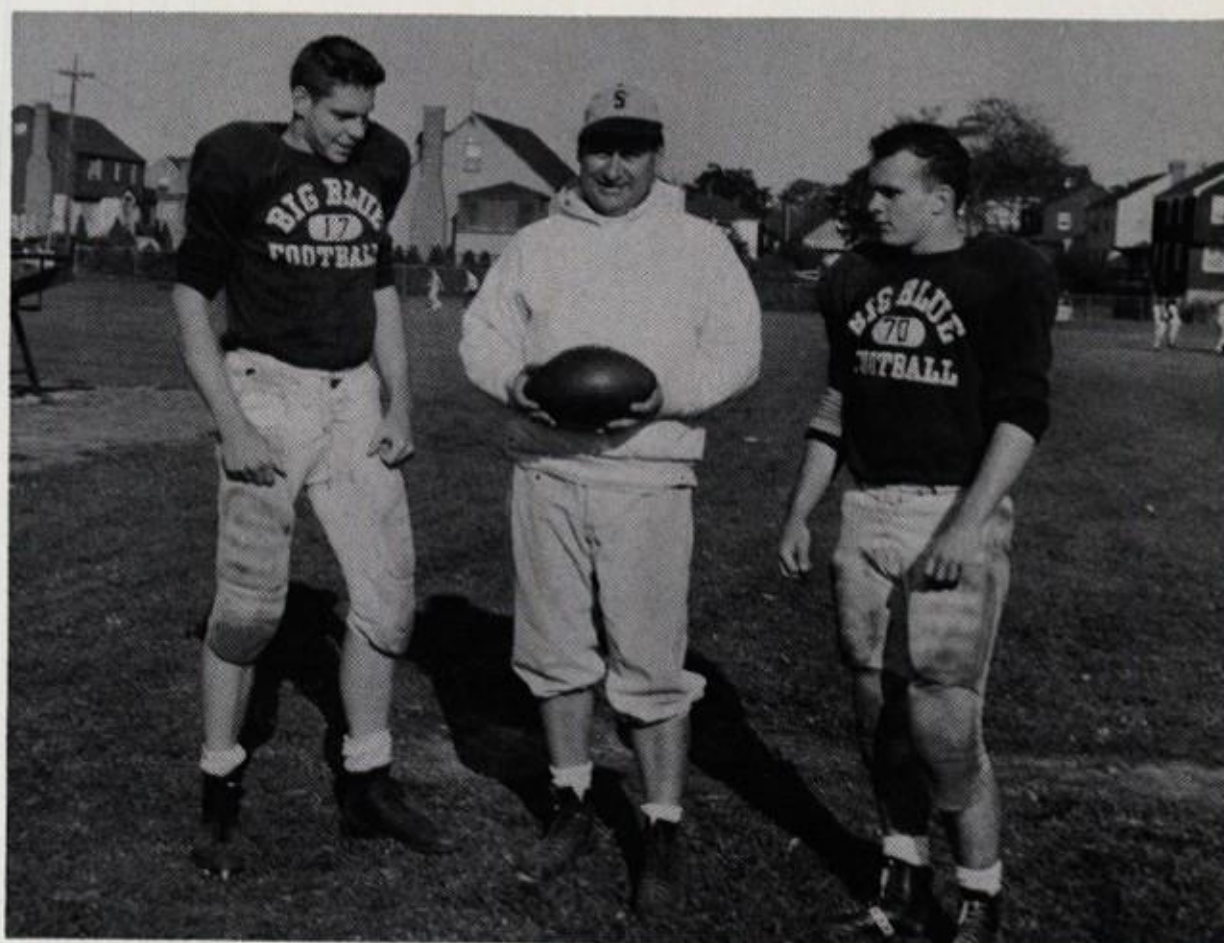

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1; Ice Hockey Manager 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 2, 3.

THOMAS P. CORCORAN

Tom, whose activities revolve around sports, is one of the best baseball players S.H.S. has produced in years. In addition to baseball, hockey, skiing, and skating consume his time. With his easy-going but ambitious nature, Tom will make the most of his college years.

Football 4; Ice Hockey 3; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Ski Club 3, 4.

Coach Bondelevitch has a right to look proud of his 1960 co-captains, Bob Arnold and Mike Janvrin.

THE SENIORS

ROBERTA E. CORLETTE

Roberta is a vivacious blonde with a personality as colorful as her golden hair. She has a special yen for parties, clothes, and writing letters to Les.

Even Mr. Scarecrow had fun listening to the caller and watching the boys swing their partners at the fall Barn Dance.

RICHARD S. FERMON

Dick's life ambition is to make a lot of money and have a good time. After high school, he hopes to enter Bentley School of Accounting and Finance. His favorite pastimes are parties, girls, driving the car, and golf. When in need, he resorts to his favorite saying: "Dad, how about more money?"

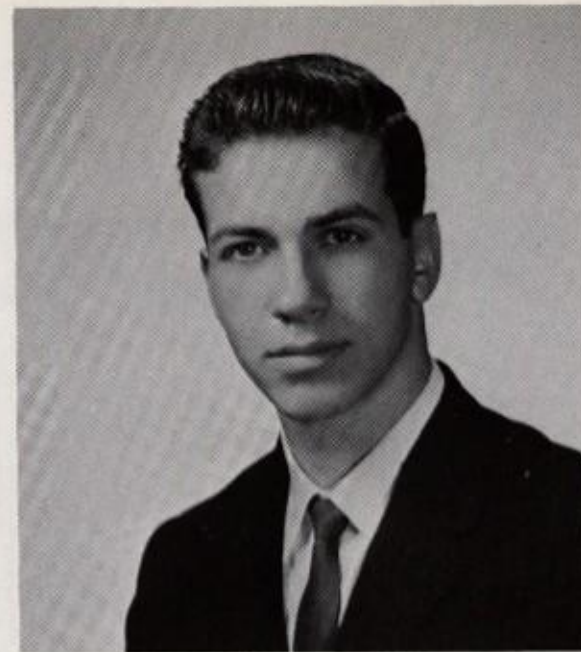

Golf 2, 3, 4.

CLAIRE J. FINNISS

As her favorite pastimes, Claire likes to bowl, to roller skate, and to see David. Next year she plans to attend a beauticians school. Afterward she will pursue her main ambition—to marry David and become a good housewife.

Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Special Chorus 2, 3, 4; Ski Club 3, 4; Decorations Committee 4.

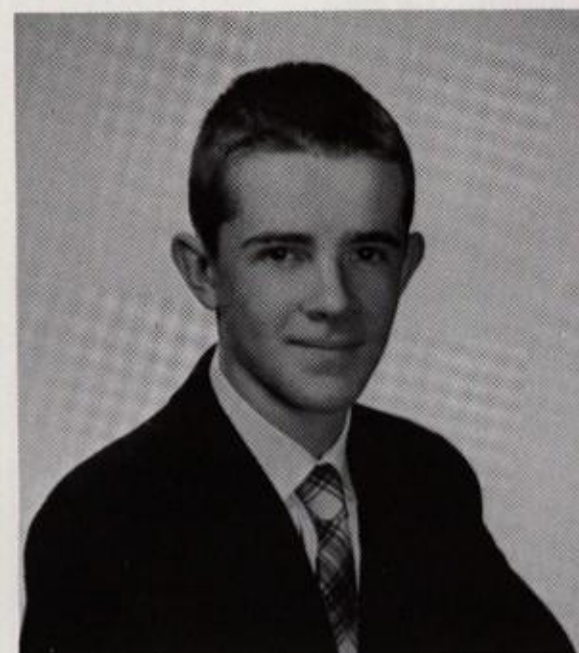

NICHOLAS P. FIORE

A wink, a smile, a laugh—all characterize "little Nick." He brightens up many parties and dances with his lively, outgoing personality and sense of humor. He plans to attend a technical school next year, and he wants eventually to become an engineer.

Football 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 2; Travel Club 4; Ski Club 4.

Colorful pre-game posters which keep spirit high are the handiwork of Captain Janet of the S. H. S. cheerleaders, Stanley, and Mike.

EDWARD H. FOSTER

"Rock" is a senior with a most unusual ambition. He wants to attend the New England Institution of Embalming and Funeral Directing, and eventually to become a mortician. Right now he takes his pleasure before business and enjoys bowling, swimming, skating, and just being with his friends.

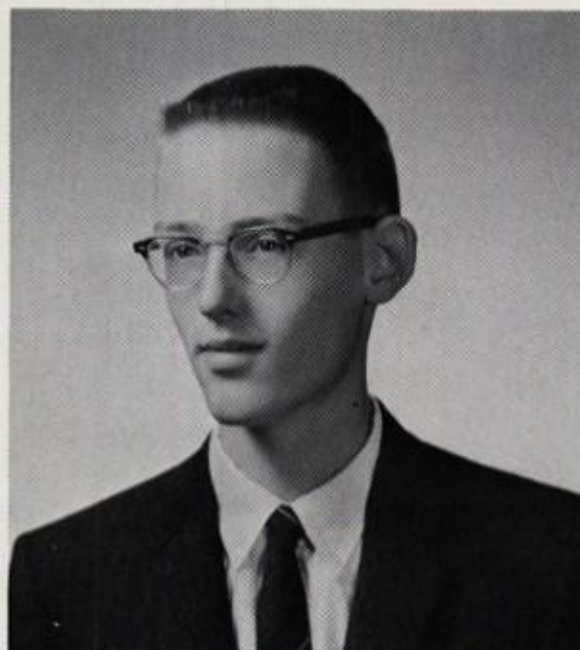

SEA GULL 4; Travel Club 4; Ski Club 4.

MARLENE R. FREEDMAN

Some handsome, rich doctor will certainly be lucky to have "Mickie" as a secretary. The patients will feel better immediately when they encounter her warm smile and compassionate manner.

CAMILLE R. GATTO

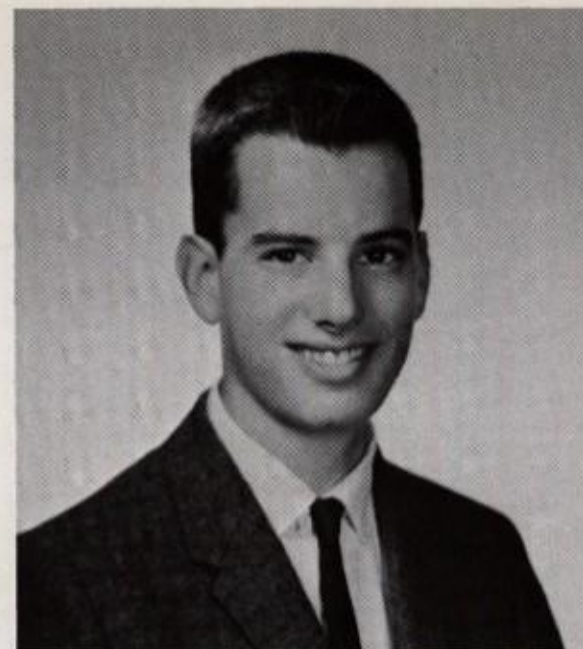

Cammy, our Lynn English transfer, sleeps, eats, and studies thinking about sports. Outside of school she skis, bowls, rides horses, takes part in P.A.L., and dabbles in art. This year Cammy participated in field hockey, basketball, and softball. It isn't any surprise that she hopes to become a physical education teacher.

PETER GNAEDINGER

Pete, never idle for a moment, is always either fixing his car or driving down to Hanover. Next year he hopes to attend Franklin Institute, where he will study to become an architect and a housing contractor.

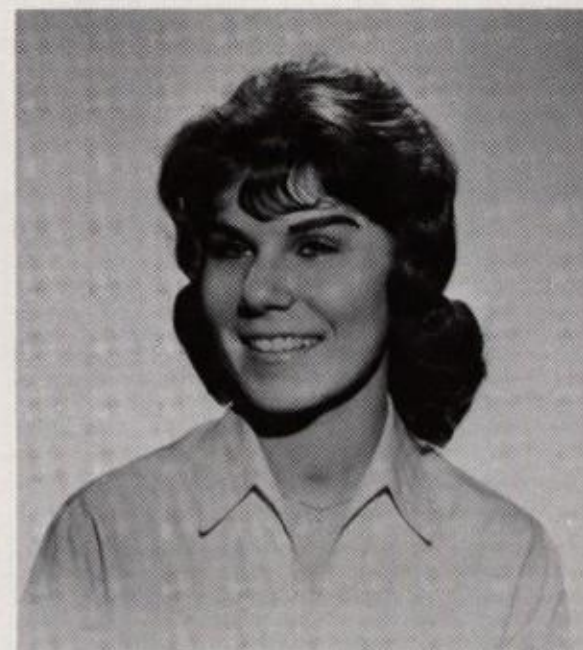

Football 1, 2, 3; Ice Hockey 1, 2, Captain 3; Math Club 4; Ski Club 4; Student Council 1.

THOMAS G. GILDER, JR.

Tom meets any situation with a smile on his face and a spring in his step. To accomplish his goal of becoming a chemical engineer, he plans to go west to college. With golf, skiing, boating, and band work as his outside interests, he's always busy.

Track 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Cheminants 3; Ski Club 2, 3, 4.

LINDA A. GOLDBERG

"How about that now?" asks pretty "Lin," the very essence of sophistication. She loves to work in her dad's store, go to the movies, and take part in senior class activities. Linda hopes to attend a junior college, where she probably study merchandising.

Travel Club 3, 4; Dramatics Club 3, 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4.

Through experienced counselors

THE SENIORS

MARGARET L. GRIECO

Margaret is a girl whose interests range in the "f's" — fashion, friends, and fun. She spends much of her spare time making her clothes, but she is always willing to stop sewing and spend time with her friends. Someday she would like to be a fashion designer or a model, but next year she plans to work in an office.

JUDITH H. HALL

Like most others with her nickname, "Tex" enjoys horseback riding and having many friends. A transfer to S.H.S. in her junior year, she plans to continue her studies in a business school or junior college.

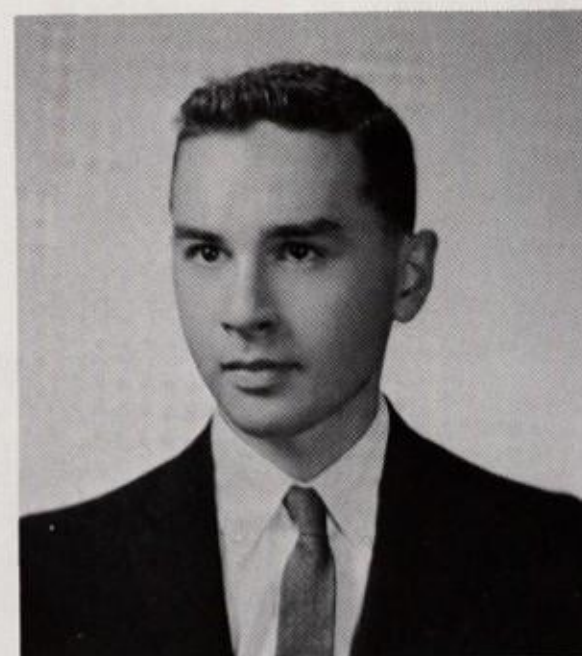

Basketball 3, 4; SEA GULL 4; Ski Club 3, 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 3, 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4.

PATRICIA A. HENRY

"You're kidding!" says Pat, who enjoys New Hampshire parties, college boys, and just plain fun. Combine a pleasing personality with attractive looks, and that's Pat. Her friendliness will be a welcome addition to any junior college campus. She plans a career as a medical secretary.

SWAMPSCOTTA 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 4; Travel Club 3; Decorations Committee 3.

DIANNE J. HENSON

Dianne has definite plans to marry John and finally settle down to a quiet life in the Green Mountain State. However, first she expects to be employed in some kind of secretarial work shortly after she receives her diploma in June.

SEA GULL 4; Library Club 2; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4.

NEIL F. HERSHENSON

Neil's ambition, to become very rich, will be achieved if he goes through life as competently as he has gone through high school. His reserved manner is not a hindrance, and he is well-liked by all his classmates.

Basketball 2, 3; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Chem-inaut Club 3; International Relations Club 3, 4; Guidance Missiles 4.

DONNA C. HOBDEN

Future work as an office secretary sounds appealing to Donna. Woolworth's and mothers with small children will soon lose a good worker with a pleasant personality. Among the activities that Donna enjoys most are bowling and roller skating.

THE SENIORS

IRMA R. LIPSKY

"Forget it," says Irma, although no one would want to forget her pleasing smile and friendly personality. Irma is so tiny that she'll probably have to wear stilts to reach the top drawers of the office files.

SEA GULL 4; Travel Club 3, 4; Dramatics Club 4; Library Club 2; Decorations Committee 3, 4; Talent Show 4.

SANDRA H. LITCHMAN

Sandy is one of Swampscott High's "live wires". Her wonderful smile and cooperative nature have made her a great many friends at school. Although Sandy's plans for the future are undecided at this time, certainly she'll reach whatever goal she sets for herself.

SWAMPSCOTTA 4; Travel Club 3, 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4.

DAVID LORD

"Hey, Lordy!" is a greeting Dave often hears. His chief interest is ice hockey, and he has helped the Big Blue team on to victory for four years. After high school he plans to attend college and then to become an engineer.

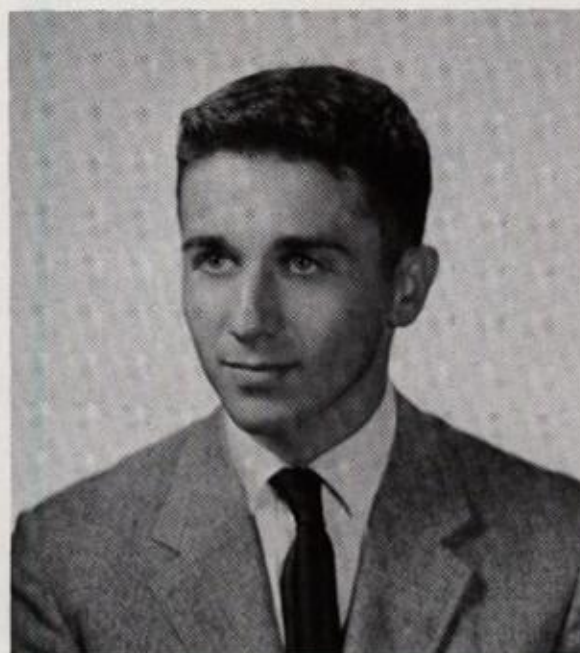

Football 1, 2; Ice Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Ski Club 4; Decorations Committee 4.

WILLIAM J. LOVEDAY

Bill, who quarterbackes the Big Blue, plans to go to prep school next year. His life ambition is to make that million dollars in the leather business. Bill's interests outside of school and sports fall into two classes — girls and money.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Ice Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Ski Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

ALAN MANGANARO

Not quite sure of his future occupation, Al plans to attend the University of Massachusetts next year. Though he doesn't weigh more than 140 pounds, Al is noted on the football field for his keen competitive spirit and his vicious tackles.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3; Ski Club 1, 2, 3, 4; SWAMPSCOTTA 4.

BETHANY MARSTON

Beth, who just about makes it to school on time in the morning, would love to be able to sleep until twelve o'clock every day. She enjoys everything from skiing and horseback riding to dating Howie.

ARMAND W. PALLESCHI

Jackie is a quiet but forceful type of boy who enjoys cars and golf. He plans to attend Newman Prep next year before entering college. His life ambition is to become a skilled draftsman, and his industrious and conscientious attitude gives promise of success.

SWAMPSCOTTA, Circulation Manager 4; SEA GULL 4; Radio Club 1.

ERNEST T. PATRIKIS

Nearly everyone wants to become wealthy, and Ernie is no exception. He has a wide variety of interests, varying from stamp collecting to girls. An accomplished musician as well as an amateur photographer, Ernie also enjoys skating and golfing.

SEA GULL 4; Band 1, 2, Manager 3, 4; Radio Club 1; Guidance Missiles 4; Talent Show 4.

BRADFORD C. PERRY

Bradford is one of our more serious students, but those who have seen him at a party know his other side. If you're ever looking for him in the summer, try Fisherman's Beach. Swimming, skiing, and boating are among Brad's favorite activities.

SEA GULL 4; Band 1, 2, Manager 3, 4; Ski Club 3, 4; Radio Club 1, 2.

THE SENIORS

THOMAS A. PETERS

Tommy's world centers around sports. He has been a great addition to the football, basketball, baseball, and track teams. However, he still finds time for Student Council and the talent show. "Tom Thumb" plans to attend a state teachers college.

Football 4; Basketball 3; Track 1; Baseball 2; Ski Club 2; Talent Show 3; Student Council 3; Class Treasurer 4.

HOLLY PHILLIPS

Holly, who very rarely goes anywhere without Tom, is enthusiastic about everything concerning sports, especially football and hockey. Next year Holly plans to attend Katharine Gibbs School and then become an efficient secretary. Her pleasing personality assures her of success.

Field Hockey 1; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 4; SEA GULL 4.

PATRICIA M. POLISSON

Dancing, summer vacation, and Al comprise some of Pat's favorite pastimes. A busy worker at the public library, this attractive brunette plans to attend the University of New Hampshire, where she will prepare for a career in the foreign service.

SWAMPSCOTTA 3, 4; School Play 3; Travel Club 3; Dramatics Club 3, 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4.

CAROLINE K. POOR

Carol, a welcome addition to S.H.S. in her junior year, has a delightful personality which helps her win many friends. Next year Carol plans to attend Westbrook Junior College.

EDWARD E. PRINGLE

One of the quieter members of our class, Ted plans to have a career in science and hopes to further his education in that field at Tufts University. His interests outside of school include science fiction and amateur astronomy.

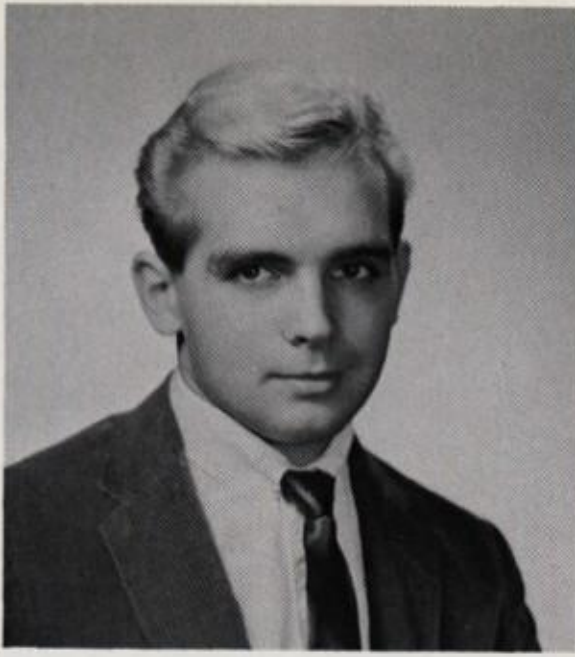

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Cheminants 3; International Relations Club 3, 4; Boys' State Alternate 3; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

MARILYN G. RAINONE

Marilyn, with her friendly smile, brightens up Eaton's Drug Store, where she works behind the soda fountain. This active girl is also a leader in the C.Y.O., and spends much time working for that organization. Next year she wants to attend a nursing school. Eventually she will specialize in the care of infants and children.

College applications completed . . .

JAMES H. RANDELL

Beneath Jim's usually calm exterior lies a rebellious spirit. He excels not only in school work but also in his favorite activities—skiing, sailing, and weight lifting. His ambition is to become a doctor.

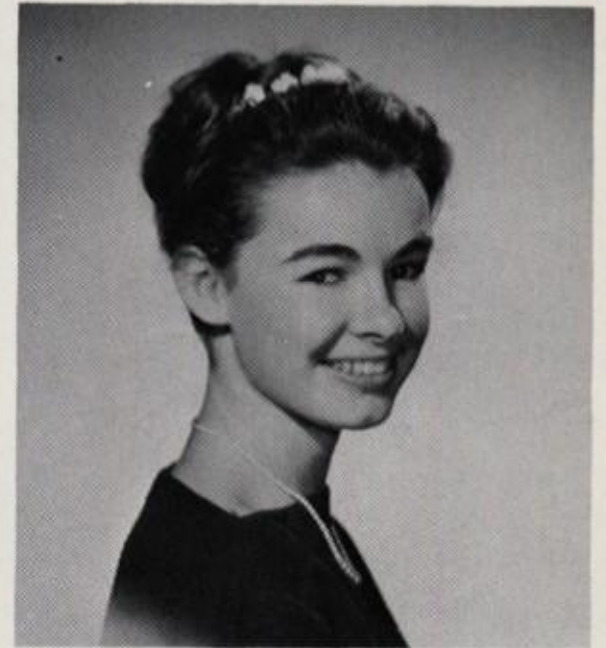

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 2, 3, 4; SEA GULL 4; Cheminants 3; Ski Club 3, 4; Boys' State 3; Student Council 4; Class Council 4.

SUSAN G. REDMAN

"Travel" is the small word that holds Sue's big dreams. Her itinerary starts next year at a secretarial school, where she will prepare for work as an airlines secretary. Reading, horseback riding, and boating are among her interests. Her work at Eaton's evokes her favorite word, "Fabulous!"

Dramatics Club 4; Decorations Committee 4.

MARY ROACH

Mary, the girl with the beautiful hair, is a person of varied interests. Piano, art, C.Y.O., tennis and swimming keep her constantly busy. Her goal is to dedicate her life to helping others.

Activity-period classes in typing prepare us for the term papers we'll be facing in college.

THE SENIORS

WILLIAM R. ROLLINS, JR.

A friendly smile and the cheery greeting "Hi, kid!" signalize Buzzy's arrival in any gathering. Presently, his main interests run in two channels, sports and girls. Next year he'll go to college, his first step on the road to riches.

Football 1, 3, 4; Ice Hockey 2, 3, 4; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Travel Club 4; Ski Club 3, 4.

BRUCE D. ROOKS

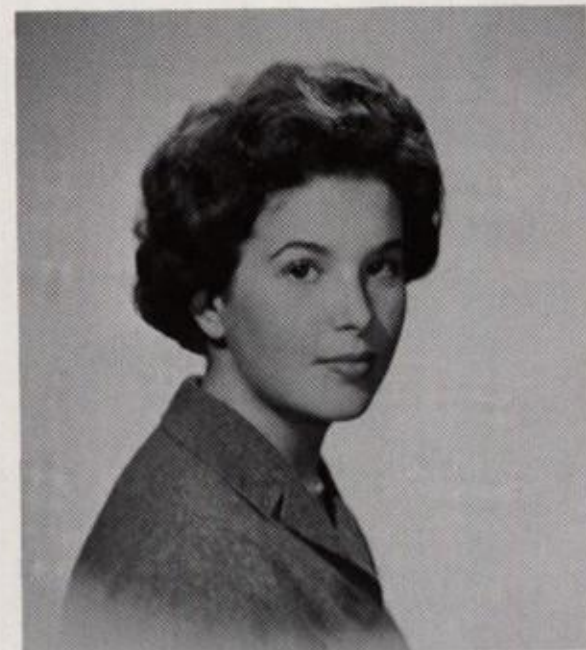

Jovial and friendly, Bruce is sure to accomplish all his ambitions. Next year he hopes to attend a business school to learn how to become successful and rich. However, the not-too-distant future may see him writing a musical comedy, as his hobby takes him in that direction. Junior Red Cross 2; Glee Club 2; Travel Club 4.

MARTIN S. ROSEN

Marty, or "Stretch," as his friends have aptly dubbed him, hopes to become an electrical engineer after completing college. His ambition in life is to become successful in his work. After school hours, Marty spends his leisure time working with electrical equipment.

Basketball 1, 2, 4; Band 1; Travel Club 3, 4; Talent Show 4.

DEBORAH R. ROSS

After graduating from Radcliffe, "Debbie" plans to become a writer and win a Pulitzer Prize.

Not only S. H. S. students, but thousands of other people, saw Mr. Dunn and other highlights of our Thanksgiving Rally.

Our debut on T. V. . . .

TAFT ROTHWELL

Taffy, known by her favorite expression "That's very nice," is always ready with a witty remark or prank. An active girl, she has among her many interests the Dazies and, of course, Tubby.

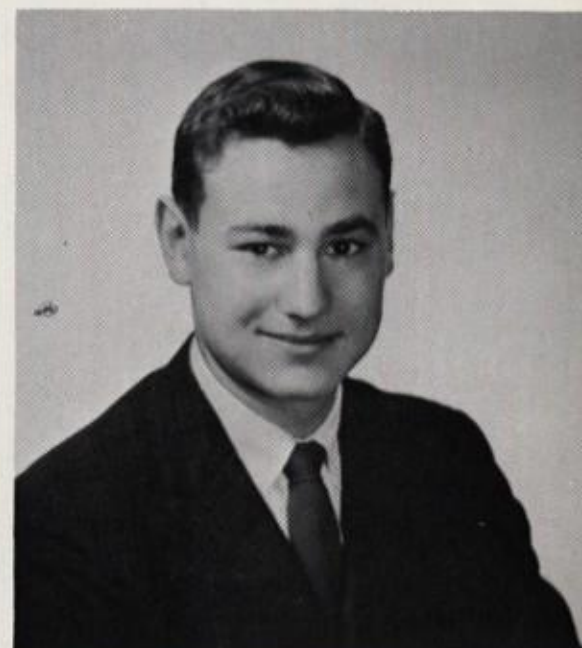

Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3; Softball 1, 2, 3, 4; Travel Club 3; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4; Student Council 2.

JEAN ROWEN

A cheerful smile and a pleasant "Hello" are two things for which Jean will be remembered. Artistically inclined, she enjoys ceramics and all types of music. Her hopes for the future include a position in the business world together with happiness and success in her endeavors.

Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Decorations Committee 3, 4.

JAMES L. RUBIN

With hopes of becoming a successful business man, likeable Jim plans to attend Boston University School of Business Administration. After college graduation, he will be well qualified to take over his father's business. Jim's favorite pastimes include the Stags and bowling.

Glee Club 1, 2; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Travel Club 4; Ski Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

ALAN SALERNO

Alan works diligently at having the best time he can. Whether he is chauffeuring the girls from here to there or sitting in a classroom, he always enjoys life. He is a fine athlete, having broken the school high-jump record in his junior year.

Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4.

THOMAS SANTANELLO

"Santos," besides being a good all-around athlete, is interested in Holly. His plans for next year include either Nichols School or possibly a college where he will prepare to become a buyer.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Ice Hockey 1, 2, 3; Captain 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain 4; SWAMPSCOTTA 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Vice-President 4; Student Council 1, 2, 3, President 4; Class Council 1, 2, 3, 4; SEA GULL 4.

DIANA J. SCANDIFFIO

Diana's puckish sense of humor will surely make her a hit on any college campus. She plans a career in teaching.

THE SENIORS

PATRICIA A. SHAY

Pat, a girl who is always on the go, wants to travel after completing her formal education. Although she is undecided about her future occupation, she plans to attend a liberal arts college next year. SWAMPSCOTTA 4; Dramatics Club 3, 4; Ski Club 4; International Relations Club 3, 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 3.

CONSTANCE SILVERMAN

"Blondie" can win the heart of any young man by only flashing that smile. Perhaps someday Connie's artistic efforts will win her the fame of Rembrandt. Travel Club 1, 2; Dramatics Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Ski Club 4; Radio Club 4; Junior Red Cross 3, 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 3, 4; Decorations Committee 1, 2, 3, 4; Talent Show 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2.

JEFFREY W. SHUB

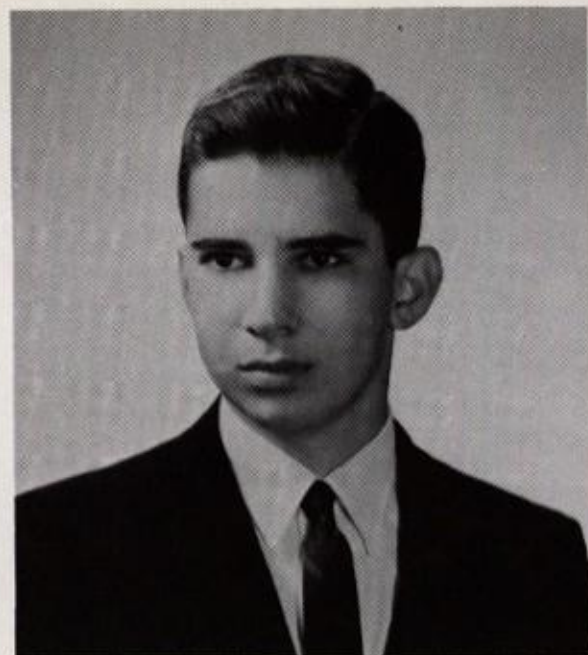

"Is that so?" is Jeff's only reply when somebody facetiously expresses a dislike of Ramblers. Although he plans to continue his education at college, Jeff is still undecided about his life ambition. Stereo and photography are two of his interests outside of school.

SWAMPSCOTTA 4; Travel Club 4; International Relations Club 4; Guidance Missiles 4; Decorations Committee 3.

PHYLLIS C. SINMAN

An accordionist by avocation, Phyl plans to prepare for a career as a medical technician. Her interests outside of school focus upon Delta Kappa Sorority. She is past president of Senior Young Judea. Field Hockey 1, 2; Band 2, 3, 4; Cheminauts 3; Math Club 3; Dramatics Club 1, 4; Library Club 1; International Relations Club 3, 4; Decorations Committee 4.

ARTHUR C. SIEGEL

Art hopes to become a successful businessman. In pursuit of this ambition, he plans to attend the Wharton School of Business and Finance. Whatever free time he can find, Art devotes to his main interest — photography.

SWAMPSCOTTA 2, 3, 4; Cheminauts 3; Math Club 3; Travel Club 4; International Relations Club 3, 4; Guidance Missiles 4; Decorations Committee 4.

BEVERLY A. SISKIND

PATRICIA S. SMITH

No party could be a success without "Angel's" making an appearance. Dazie meetings, driving, and generally socializing take up a great part of her life. After attending a secretarial school or a junior college, Pat plans to pursue happiness.

SWAMPSCOTTA 4; Guidance Missiles 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 1, 2, 3, 4.

MARSHALL SNEIRSON

Marshall, though serious, enjoys a good joke as well as anyone else. His subtle manner and quick mind will be invaluable assets in the legal profession, which he hopes to enter after he has completed his college education.

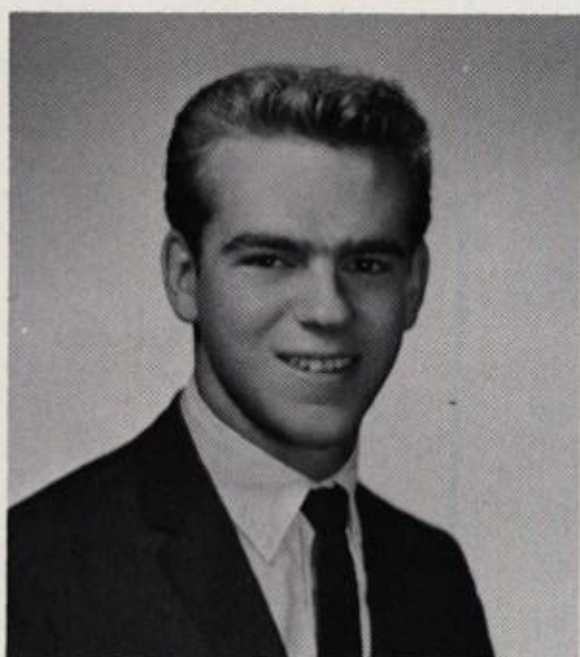

SWAMPSCOTTA 4; SEA GULL 4; Travel Club 4; Ski Club 1, 2, 3, 4; International Relations Club 3, 4; Russian Club 2.

PAULETTE SNOW

With a twinkle in her eye and a laugh on her lips, Paulette is always running around with something special on her mind — be it her work at Hoffman's, sewing, or her picture album.

Intramural Field Hockey 1, 2; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Ski Club 1, 2, 3, 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 3, 4; Decorations Committee 1, 2, 3, 4.

LLOYD SPAIN

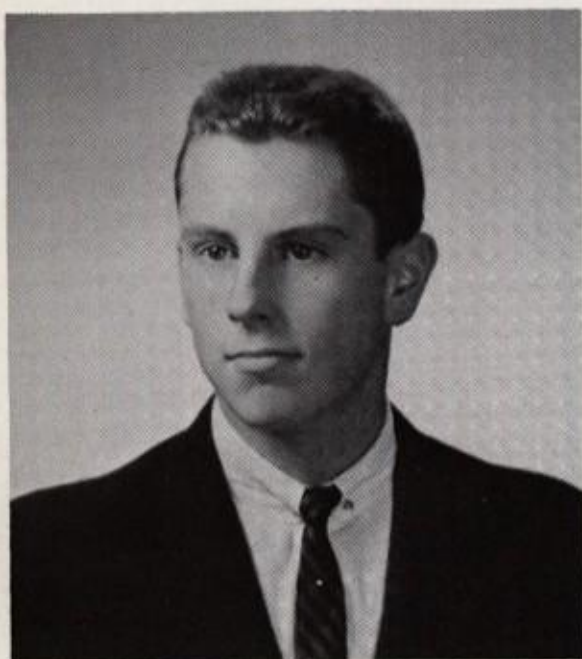

"You'd better believe it!" says Lloyd, a spirited member of our class. He enjoys parties, girls, and sports. Next year Lloyd plans to attend a prep school and eventually become a wholesale clothes buyer for a large store.

Football 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1; Track 2, 3; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4; Student Council 2.

Selling the SEA GULL and meeting those deadlines are the responsibilities of co-editors Barbara and Kevin and business managers Barbara, Beverly, and Tom.

THE SENIORS

RICHARD J. SPENCE

Skating, water-skiing, parties, and girls are some of the interests "Rocket" professes. Rick, who hopes to attend Tufts Medical School, will certainly please his patients. His good looks and friendly personality have made him a very popular class member.

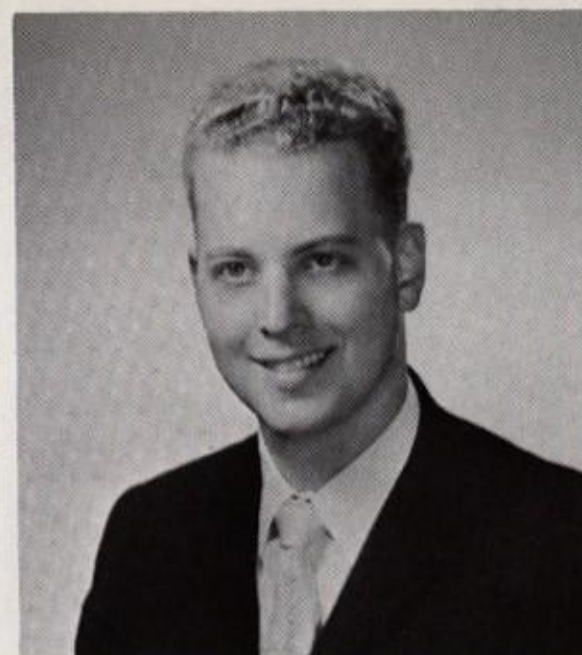

Football 1, 2; Ice Hockey 2, 3, 4; Golf 3, 4; Ski Club 3, 4.

BARBARA J. SPENCER

Among the things that red-haired Barb likes best are the Stop and Shop and "good-looking blondes." Lucky children will go to her nursery school some day.

SIDNEY F. STEIN

Sid, one of the brightest members of our class, will someday be attending to patients rather than to homework.

SWAMPSCOTTA 2, 3, Associate Editor 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Chess Club 1; Cheminauts 3, 4; Math 3, 4; Travel Club 4; International Relations Club, Vice-President 3, President 4; National Honor Society 3, Treasurer 4; Boys' State 3; Science Fair, First Prize 3.

What school affords students a more splendid view?

PETER H. STEVENS

Pete spends a lot of time with his studies, but the rest of his day is devoted to his favorite hobbies — cycling, sailing, and skindiving. He has certainly helped the track team to victory many times with his excellent performances.

Track 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2; Chess Club 2; Cheminauts 3; Radio Club 1.

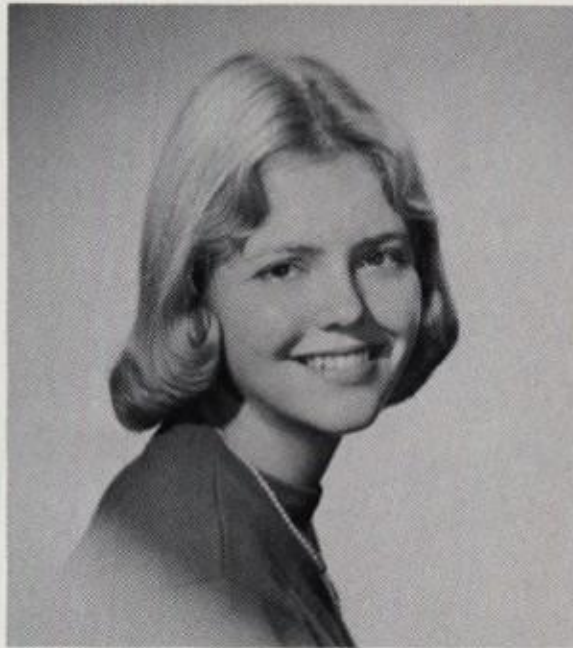

Our graduation behind . . .

ANN E. STEVER

Someday when Ann becomes an airline hostess and is flying high, we hope she'll remember her "down-to-earth" friends at S.H.S. Ann is always in a whirl of activity, as she is an enthusiastic leader with many ideas and lots of spirit.

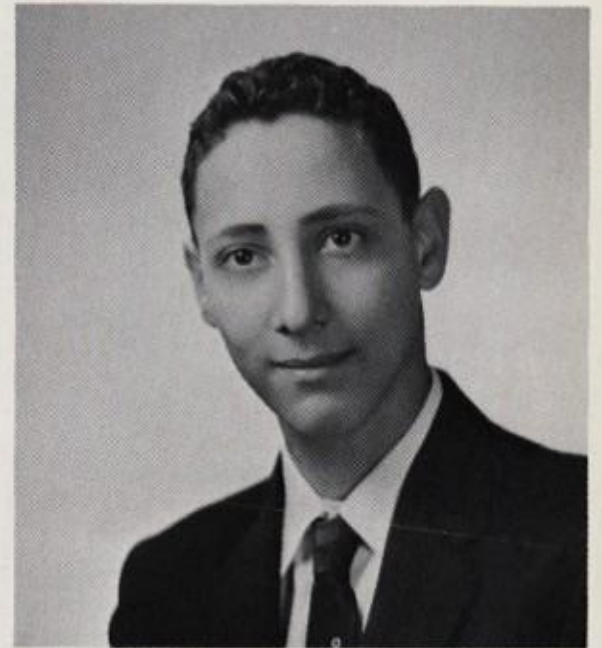

Ski Club 3, 4; S.H.S. Spirit Committee 4; Decorations Committee 3, 4.

JOAN B. STRESSEGER

Joan excels not only in studies but also in extracurricular activities. Parties and skiing trips are enlivened by her cheery presence.

A Message from Co-editors Barbara Tolpin and Kevin Leonardi

It seems hardly possible that after months of work the Sea Gull is completed and we have opened and closed the doors of Miss Shay's yearbook room for the last time. From early fall, when we began to put into effect the ideas formulated last spring, to the final deadline, staff members have given their time unstintingly. Their reliability, initiative, and cooperation have made working with them a true pleasure. The editorial staff was always ready with ideas; the layout staff spent hours planning new designs; the typing staff accomplished their tasks quickly and efficiently. Our hardworking business staff always came through splendidly with financial support.

How can we ever thank our adviser, Miss Mary E. Shay? We will never forget her tireless work and her invaluable assistance and supervision. Miss Mary M. Chaisson with her helpful suggestions was indispensable to the layout staff, as was Mr. William Sasso to the business staff.

Class historians this year were Patricia Davis, '61; Kathy Carey and Sandra Goldstein, '62; and Robert Bluestein, '63. The cover of the yearbook was designed by Eleanor Zenis, '61.

We, the editors of the 1961 Sea Gull, sincerely thank all of these people. We fully realize that without their talent and energy our yearbook would not have been possible.
